2-Way Tam High Proposal Handed County Committee

Reed-Redwood Area Would Become Separate District

By FRANK FARRARA

A new proposal, this one for two-way unification of school districts in the Tamalpais Union High School District, was launched last night at a meeting of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization.

The proposal is for unification of the Ross, Kentfield, Larkspur and Reed Elementary school districts, generally the Redwood High School attendance area, into one district.

The remainder of the Tamalpais High School District area, containing Sausalito, Mill Valley, Bolinas-Stinson, San Anselmo, Fairfax, Lagunitas and Nicasio elementary school districts, would be unified in a second district.

The move came in the form of a petition, signed by 305 voters, which was presented to the committee by Mrs. Alyce Farkas, president of the Reed Union School District board.

A plan for overall unification of the Tamalpais High School District was rejected by the voters last June, and last Thursday the State Board of Education rejected a plan for three-way unification.

DEFEAT DECISIVE

Mrs. Farkas said a number of people feel that the defeat of the overall plan at the polls was decisive and any further submission of that plan would be a waste of funds and resources.

The committee also received a letter from the Ross School District opposing total unification of the Tamalpais area.

Committee member Jack Mengel charged that the new two-way proposal "takes the heart out of the district." and he asked why the proposal was made.

Mrs. Farkas said the petitioners are people with a community of interests who desire to form a unified district and desire a small district, which they feel is fundamental to good education.

BROADER BASE

"Some others want a broader base, but this answers our concerns for a cohesive, small district and it may answer the concerns of the rest," she said. "It is quite reasonable and sensible."

Mengel said "we're still getting the most emphasis from a small group that wants something for itself."

The petition requested that the committee hold a public hearing on the proposal. Under the law, the committee upon receipt of such a petition must schedule a hearing and then determine whether it wants to undertake any further study of the proposal.

The committee did not set a hearing date, but will review necessary information at its Jan. 20 meeting.

The committee asked Robert

More District Attorney Aides Leave Office

Resignation of two staff members of the Marin County district attorney's office, including the assistant district attorney, and appointment of a new deputy were revealed today.

Dist. atty. Bruce B. Bales said Leighton Hatch, who assumed the assistant district attorney post Sept. 1, has resigned effective Dec. 31. Reason was given by Hatch as health. He is resigning on advise of his physician.

He has been under care of a doctor for some time, Bales said. Hatch, 35, of 58 South Knoll Road in Strawberry, filled the position vacated by Bales who succeeded Roger P. Garety as district attorney.

Bales said no replacement has yet been selected, but a decision will likely be made before Jan. 1.

Also resigning, effective about Feb. 15, is William L. Mackey, deputy district attorney since March 8, 1963. Bales said Mackey is planning to enter private practice with Thomas T. Storer, who also is leaving his deputy district attorney's post following his election as Marin County supervisor of District 4.

Replacement of Mackey, 113 Birch Way, Santa Venetia, has not been made, Bales said, but Storer's post will be filled by Michael B. Dufficy, attorney practicing private law in San Rafael for the past year.

Dufficy, 768 Del Ganado, Terra Linda, attended Sir Francis Drake School for a year, is a graduate of Stanford University in 1960, and of Hastings School of law in 1963.

Since then he has been associated with the San Rafael firm of Killion, Hayes and Dufficy.

He is son of Ellis R. Dufficy, who was assistant district attorney in Marin County from 1946 to 50, and grandson to William C. Dufficy, a justice of peace in Marin County in the 1870's.

Dufficy 26, starts the new job Jan. 1. He and his wife, Penelope, have three children, Kim, 5, Kit, 4, and Kevin, 1.

DOPE SMUGGLING CHARGES LODGED

Officials Seek More Ring Members, Outside Source Of Illicit Narcotics

Consporacy charges to smuggle narcotics into San Quentin Prison were filed today against the prime suspect in an alleged heroin ring, and against two prison inmates.

Marin Couunty Deputy Dist. Atty. Gary Thomas said the felony complaints are against Joseph Matthew Herman, 57, of Mill Valley, employed at the prison's psychiatric department, and against inmates Jesus Gonzales, 36, and Horace Daniel Lenington, 28.

Herman, free on $5,500 bail, was arrested Tuesday night on suspicion of bringing heroin and wyamine, an inhalant, into the prison. Capt. Carl G. Hocker of the prison said seven bindles of heroin were recovered from Gonzales.

Two other inmates, said by prison officials to be closely associated with Gonzales, were also being investigated.

Prison records show Lenington, a prison hospital attendant, was convicted of murder in Los Angeles County, drew a life sentence, and was received at San Quentin in January of 1962.

THE CHRISTMAS STORY

Joseph Talks Of Taking Wife —Mary Arrives From Jerusalem

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Nearly 2,000 years ago, a child was born in Bethlehem, a birth still celebrated on Dec. 25 everywhere in the Christian world. The story has been told and retold, but never with all the drama and glory as in Fulton Oursler's "The Greatest Story Ever Told." This series is a new adaptation from that best-selling book told in seven chapters.)

(First in a series)

By FULTON OURSLER

People in Nazareth said that Joseph was like his great ancestor, the favorite son of Jacob. It was true that the carpenter with his small golden beard, so different from his black-haired neighbors, was a dreamy, quiet-spoken man, looking more like a scholar than a craftsman.

But Joseph with his prematurely bald head was called a visionary because he refrained from gambling with travelers of passing caravans; he avoided tavern women, and found his pleasure in good talk with a few neighbors. Among Nazarenes these were queer habits, for generally they were a rowdy lot.

Late one afternoon Samuel of Cana stood on the threshold of Joseph's shop. The young merchant was tall and powerful against the fading light.

"The Lord be unto you," he said politely.

"And peace be with you, Samuel. Come in. Your chest of good Galilean oak and sycamore is finished."

Samuel sprawled on the floor, while Joseph squatted on his bare heels and spread out bread and curds and a cup of milk.

"Who fixed such a dainty meal?" asked Samuel suspiciously.

"When a man is an orphan and has no wife, he must learn to do for himself."

"You are lonely, Joseph?"

"Sometimes."

"I have a cure for loneliness," murmured Samuel.

Joseph chuckled. "I can guess!"

"No," Samuel cried. "I've given up trying to make an adult out of you. No little love affairs for you! My thoughts for your future were elsewhere."

"Where then?"

"Jerusalem!"

"Are there not enough carpenters in the big city?"

"Carpenters, bah! Joseph,

Atomic Mines Set For Use In Europe

McNamara Discusses Strategy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said today the North Atlantic Alliance has atomic "mines" in its arsenal and that plans have been made for their use under "appropriate conditions."

The mines are technically called "atomic demolition munitions."

Of a very low yield—comparable to a few tons of TNT—they could be used to temporarily seal of mountain corridors or forested regions. They would slow enemy progress with blast effects and with short-lived radioactivity which would prevent attackers from clearing a path of advance for hours or a few days.

GERMAN PLANS

McNamara commented on the demolition devices upon his return from the annual winter meeting of the North Atlantic Treatey Organization in Paris. Reports from Paris yesterday said the East Germans want to position the devices along their eastern border as an instantaneous barrier to troop advances.

McNamara told reporters today, "I understand there has been discussion in the press of atomic demolition devices. These are but one of a series of nuclear warheads at the disposal of NATO.

"During the past three years we have increased the stockpile of nuclear warheads on the soil of western Europe, put there to be used by NATO, by about 60 per cent.

'APPROPRIATE CONDITIONS'

"Among the warheads stored in that stockpile are atomic demolition charges. Plans, of course, have been made by the Supreme Allied Command for use of those charges under appropriate conditions."

The NATO military headquarters in Paris, it was learned, devised the plan for placement of the mines after long study of the value of smaller nuclear weapons for arresting attackers at certain strategic points early in the war.

Presumably top political authorities would decide at what stage of an emergency — McNamara's "appropriate conditions"—that the atomic demoli-

Neil E. Power, superintendent of Samuel P. Taylor State Park, does his best to keep things in a natural state at the park, but sometimes the job gets confusing.

Yesterday he stopped three women and a man who had gathered a lug box full of acorns. He advised them that everything must be left in the park.

But he discovered that he was interrupting a natural process that began with the dawn of civilization.

The acorn gatherers were Indians, Pomo Indians, and they wanted the acorns for food.

"They make a mush out of it and eat it as a delicacy," Power said. He advised the Indians to make arrangements with a rancher and gather acorns on private property in the future.

The Indians, who were very understanding and cooperative, thanked Power, and drove away in a Thunderbird.

NATO Report Glosses Over Nuclear Friction

PARIS (UPI) — The United States and its 14 NATO allies today ended a three-day Paris conference that failed to solve the nuclear policy controversy straining the alliance.

They issued a final communique warning that western political and military unity was more vital than ever because world "uncertainties" have been increased by the communist Chinese atomic blast and the fall of Nikita S. Khrushchev.

But U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and his colleagues in the NATO council meeting glossed over in one non-committal sentence their serious differences on nuclear and conventional warfare strategy.

Their communique said only that "a thorough exchange of views on these problems took place and will be continued."

er his two long talks with French President Charles de Gaulle had made any noticeable improvement in U. S.-French relations.

However, Rusk was known to be confident that some form of Allied Multilateral Nuclear Force would be set up despite de Gaulle's vigorous objections.

One agreement reached here was that five—and possibly six NATO member states will meet around Jan. 15 to work on plans for an allied multilateral nuclear force. To take part in next months talks were the United States, Britain, West Germany, Italy and the Netherlands. It was understood Belgium also might participate.

Frosty Dawn Chilliest In Novato Area

Frost nipped at Marin County last night, but the Weather Bureau expected it to be a little warmer tonight and predicted rain as possibility tomorrow.

Low temperatures early today were Novato, 27, Woodacre, 28, Mill Valley, 34, San Anselmo, San Rafael and Fairfax, 35, Ross, 36, and Sausalito, 38.

Variable cloudiness was predicted for tonight and tomorrow, and the Weather Bureau reported a storm centered 1,000 miles off San Francisco in the Pacific which could bring rain to the Bay area tomorrow.

Nat King Cole Treated For Cancer

SANTA MONICA (UPI)—Nat King Cole, whose velvet voice has kept him high atop the world's hit parade for two decades, is undergoing cobalt treatments for a presumably cancerous "lung tumor."

Cole

Although there was no official confirmation the tumor was malignant, a spokesman for St. John's Hospital yesterday indicated cobalt treatments are given only for cancer.

Cole's condition was kept from him until shortly before a statement was released to the press yesterday.

A spokesman said doctors hoped to reduce the size of the tumor through treatments. He was expected to leave the hospital in about 10 days and return for treatments in about two weeks.

Education Leader Dies At 92

Dr. Meikeljohn, 92, was stricken with virus pneumonia three days ago after one of his walks in the Berkeley hills.

Meiklejohn

A native of England, he came to the United States at the age of 8.

He was graduated from Brown and Cornell universities and in 1897 joined the faculty in Brown's philosophy department. He was named associate professor in 1903 and full professor in 1906. He was serving as dean when he became president of Amherst in 1912.

His innovations at Amherst stirred up such a storm that the trustees asked him to resign in 1923.

He moved on to the University of Wisconsin where he continued his experimentation and later helped establish an experimental college.

Singer's Death Ruled Justifiable

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A coroner's jury has ruled it was justifiable homicide when Mrs. Bertha Franklin shot and killed Negro singer Sam Cooke Dec. 11 at the Los Angeles motel she manages.

Mrs. Franklin

At the inquest yesterday Elisa Boyer, 22, a Eurasian, said that she met Cooke at a Hollywood party and he offered to drive her home—but took her instead to the motel and forced her to disrobe. She said she fled when he went into the bathroom.

Mrs. Franklin, 55, said that Cooke ran to her office, kicked the door in and struck at her, yelling that she was hiding the girl, before she shot him.

Miss Boyer said that at the time of the shooting she was at a nearby phone booth, calling police.

'Dignitary' Causes Airport Riot

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Police have accused an 18-year-old student of posing as a "dignitary" from a fictitious kingdom in a student-fostered hoax that started more than 1,000 collegians on a destructive rampage at the city's airport.

Schein

The students, assembled to greet the dignitary, broke windows, slashed seats, and frightened travelers at the airport's terminal building yesterday. Damage was estimated at $1,000.

The disguised student, Arthur Schein of New York, was suspended by the State University of Buffalo after police charged him with disorderly conduct. He pleaded innocent and was released in $100 bail.

Police said the hoax apparently started when some students said they would picket the arrival of a visiting dignitary.

Police said Schein went to New York and booked immediate return passage to Buffalo.

When the turbaned Schein arrived, the students ran wild, authorities said.

Kuchel Leaves Door Ajar On Running For Governor

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's senior senator — Republican Thomas H. Kuchel — has decided to leave ajar the door to his political future.

Kuchel, during a Sacramento visit yesterday, was quoted as saying he was flattered that his name had been mentioned as a possible gubernatorial candidate in 1966.

"But I have no palitical plans of any kind except to serve in the Senate," he said.

Later Kuchel explained he meant to include that he had no political plans "at this time."

He did not elaborate on the statement except to indicate there could be many changes in his future plans by the time the governor's office opens again two years hence.

Kuchel refused to comment on an opinion by George H. Murphy, state legislative counsel, that a senator would be required to resign his federal post before seeking the gubernatorial nomination.

Kuchel left this problem in the air as he did his political plans for the future.

The Senator was in Sacramento to to talks with Republican leaders and for a meeting with attorney Richard N. Little, recently appointed counsel to GOP members of the Senate Interior Committee.

Kuchel, former state controller, has been elected to the Senate three times, winning his last election in 1962 by 725,000 votes.

His U.S. Senate term will not expire until 1968.

Kuchel's move to clarify his statement indicated the popular Republican may accept the gubernatorial challenge if the political climate seems to favor his candidacy.

Several other names have been mentioned as possible GOP gubernatorial candidates, including former San Francisco mayor George Christopher, movie star Ronald Reagan and Superintendent of Public Instruction Max Rafferty.

Nation Hit By Cold Wave —Temperatures 40 Below

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unprecedented prewinter cold accompanied by lashing winds paralyzed the Northwest today, dropping temperatures far below zero and turning parts of storm-battered Montana into disaster areas.

Temperatures plunged to 40 below zero in some areas, and the U.S. Weather Bureau said the cold would last at least five more days. One reading yesterday was -59 atop a mountain 24 miles Northeast of Lewistown, Mont.

The temperature was -10 and colder through most of the Northern Plains and the cold weather was accompanied by blizzard conditions across the Dakotas. The arctic air spilled over the mountains into the normally mild Pacific coastal area.

The severe weather had strange and sometimes tragic effects.

Eleven cattle stranded in deep snow at 10,000 feet above sea level west of Creede, Colo., were given tranquilizer shots, lashed securely to a helicopter and carried to lower levels.

In Bloomington, Ill., a 71-year-old woman died yesterday of carbon monoxide poisoning when furnace fumes were backed into her home by a bird's nest blocking the chimney.

The Weather Bureau said the cold spell—"which has barely begun in the Northwest" will spread into parts of Tennessee and Mississippi by the weekend. A spokesman advised motorists not to travel northwest of Minneapolis.

Wind-whipped snow and plummeting temperatures turned six Montana counties into disaster areas as severe blizzard conditions blasted the eastern third of the state.

Gov. Tim Babcock applied the disaster-area designation to Powder River, Carter, Fallon, Prairie, Rosebud and Custer counties.

December records tumbled in Billings, Dillon, Great Falls, Livingston and Missoula. The temperature was -54 in the tiny community of Summit near the Glacier National Park. Great Falls had -34, Cut Bank -25, and Lewistown -26 yesterday. Marysville, a mining camp northeast of Helena, reported -40. The -59 reading was taken at an Air Force weather station.

Sheer cold disrupted utility services. A temperature of -27 snapped a natural gas line which burst into flames south of Cody, Wyo., killing one man and severely burning another. Numerous homes were without heat as long as five hours.

The Pacific Northwest power system, with an unprecedented 6.2-million-kilowatt load, suffered many failures because of overdemand.

Snow plows and airplanes were utilized to reach isolated ranchers and cattle. An 88-year-old man died as he attempted to walk through snowdrifts from a stalled truck.

Washington State, experiencing one of its worst cold waves, shivered through record low temperatures. The coldest spot last night was -19 in Spokane, the lowest ever for December.

Winds measured at 92 miles per hour raked northwestern Washington, driving a 50-foot shrimp boat aground and tearing a large sawdust barge loose from a tug.

Snow and cold struck Oregon, sending the temperature to -16 east of the Cascade mountains.

Winds up to 50 m.p.h. whipped northern Minnesota and temperatures plunged far below zero.

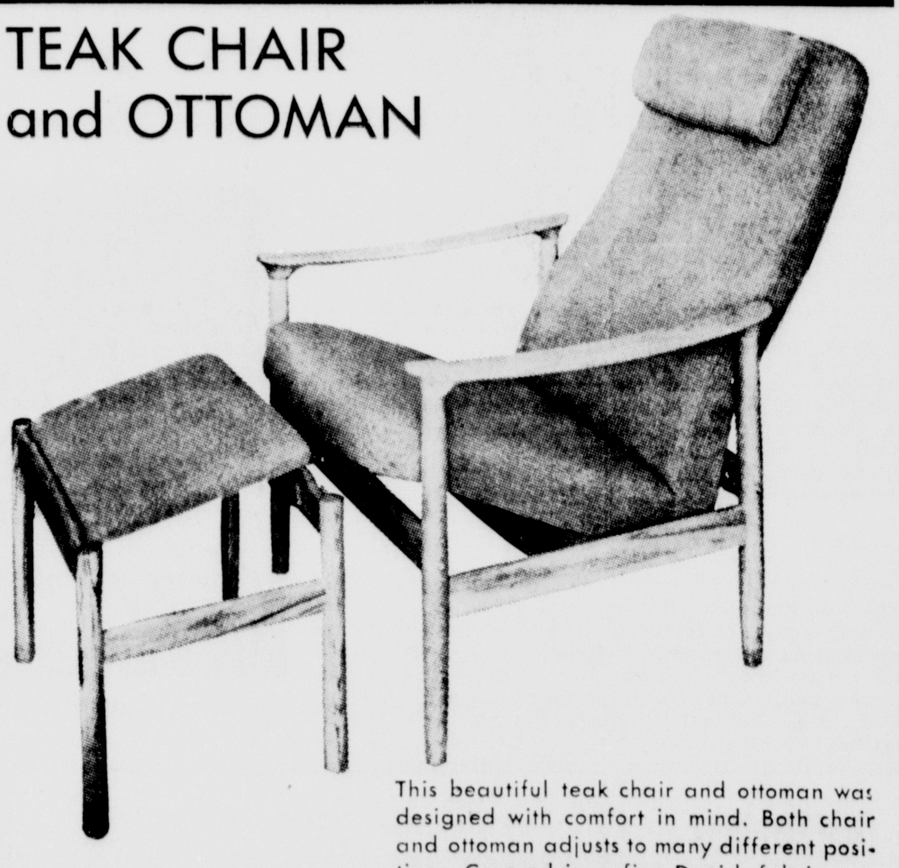

The weather was cold across the nation with the exception of the Deep South and Florida. Fort Myers, Fla., had a 79.

Russia Charges Tshombe Of Conspiracy In Congo

COMBINED AP & UPI

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — Russia charged today that Moise Tshombe sought to dismember the Congo into Western spheres of influence in exchange for money and military personnel.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko told the Security Council this "conspiracy" of the Congo's prime minister was the motivation for a U.S.-Belgian paratroop drop which rescued about 2,000 hostages from Congolese rebels at Stanleyville last month.

The November mercy mission Fedorenko said, was part of a campaign by NATO powers against national liberation movements throughout Africa.

He charged that U.S. Army anti-guerrilla specialists trained at Fort Bragg, N.C., and anti-Castro Cubans recruited as pilots by the Central Intelligence Agency were sent to the Congo by the United States.

Fedorenko renewed charges that Tshombe was a "puppet" installed by Belgian, U.S., British and West German financial interests to regain the wealth of the mineral-rich Congo.

Also at the U.N. today, reliable sources said that in the U.S. view, the Soviet Union has raised new obstacles to agreement on resolving the U.N. crisis over peacekeeping assessments.

These informants said the Soviet Union raised these points in consultations with Secretary General Thant on the financial issue:

That the General Assembly adopt a resolution endorsing establishment of a "rescue fund" into which the Soviet Union would pay to its voting rights in the assembly.

That the Soviet payment would be regarded as final and the debt incurred by the Russians, now amounting to 52.6 million dollars for the Middle East and Congo peacekeeping, would in effect be written off the books.

Fedorenko conferred with Thant Monday.

COMBINED AP & UPI

WASHINGTON—Thirteen U.S. servicemen died in South Vietnam during the week ending Dec. 14, the Defense Department reported today. It was the second largest weekly U.S. casualty toll of the Vietnamese war.

Ten of the men were killed in combat against Communist forces, and three died of other causes. Another 35 men were wounded.

A Pentagon spokesman said the weekly death toll was second only to the week ending Oct. 19, 1963, when 14 U.S. servicemen lost their lives. The Pentagon initially said the 13 dead was a record, but a check of the records disclosed that 14 was the high.

At Saigon 500 Buddhist monks and nuns ended a 24-hour hunger strike today, but Buddhist leaders made plans to keep up their campaign against the government of Premier Tran Van Huong.

Reliable sources predicted bigger hunger strikes and street demonstrations.

The Buddhist drive to topple Huong's regime was credited with causing the resignations yesterday of Education and Cultural Minister Phan Tan Chuc and Tran Thuc Linh, a deputy chief of the Information Ministry.

Other ministers are known to be wanting to get out of the government, but Huong has asked that they remain until the situation has calmed.

robbery-murder of Cesar Elagan, a bartender-janitor at a Club Tropicana in San Francisco, according to records. He is serving a life term, was received by the prison system in 1957 from San Francisco County.

Herman was scheduled for arraignment on the formal charge at 1:30 p.m. today before Marin Municipal Judge Leonard A. Thomas.

Herman, an employee at the prison for the past four years, allegedly is part of a smuggling operation which involved some $30,000 worth of heroin and the inhalant.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said the operation may have been going on for six months, and that 10 ounces of heroin may have been brought into the prison during that time.

Criminal investigator Donald E. Midyett of Bales' office said it was believed that Herman was bringing the narcotics inside cigarette packages and passing it on to Gonzales, a go-between.

Prison officials said Gonzales may be the "king-pin" of the narcotics ring inside the institution. He was placed in isolation yesterday. They added 11 other inmates in all may be involved.

The case was uncovered while authorities were investigating the cause of frequent outbursts between two rival factions of prisoners.

State and local authorities continued their search today for source of the narcotics.

Stannard, assistant secretary, to compile statistics on the attendance and assessed valuation of the proposal for its next session.

Committee member Mrs. Joseph Wallace asked that statistics also be prepared on a two-way, north-south split that would place Reed, Mill Valley, Bolinas-Stinson and Sausalito and the section of the Larkspur District east of Highway 101 in one district, and the remainder of the area in another.

Mrs. A. E. Larsen, a committee member, requested figures for a similarly two-way split with the Corte Madera ridge as the main dividing line.

Committee members also said they wanted estimates on the incentive money that would be available under the Unruh Education Act for each of the proposals.

Walf. Oglesby, state field representative for school district organization, said the "bonus" money under the act varies from $15 per pupil downward.

The committee also received a letter from Leo Souza, trustee of the Reed Union School District, suggesting areas of study for the committee including de facto regregation, financial bases, and special educational program and services.

Members Earl Marshall and John Hamren were absent.

Bolinas Bay Sewage Will Be Prohibited

Special to the I-J

OAKLAND — Dumping of either treated or untreated sewage in Bolinas Bay will be prohibited under terms of a long-range plan and policy for water pollution control adopted after a one and one-half hour hearing this morning by the Regional Water Pollution Control Board No. 2 at the State Office Building here.

Decision to follow its staff recommendations for a stiff policy overrode protests by several Bolinas residents but was in line with views voiced at the meeting by Kelvin J. Nelson, Marin County parks and recreation director, and representatives of sportsmen groups and other organizations.

Sherman R. Smith, chairman of the Bolinas Public Utility District Board, spoke on behalf of less rigid pollution control with support of others from Bolinas including James Kerr, a board member. The attitude of the district board was embodied in a letter after a recent meeting when it was decided to have representation, and to explain plans for a 40,000-gallon treatment plant.

Today's meeting was postponed from October on request of the district, following an Aug. 20 hearing by the water pollution board. Both Marin County and the state had recommended that clamming in Bolinas Bay be banned unless the dumping of sewage was forbidden, whereas the utilities district said that any alternative to the present dumping system would not be economically feasible.

Effect of today's action will not immediately ban further dumping, it was explained. But it sets policy of the control board and provides guide-lines to shape the handling of cases in the future.

WEAPONS

tion munitions would be emplaced.

These plans are somewhat different from those attributed yesterday to the West Germans, who reportedly were advocating emplacement of the mines on a permanent basis. NATO plans call for putting them down only if there is international tension, and if a communist attack across the Iron Curtain appears to be a possibility.

The reported German proposal did serve to call attention to concern in the West German government that nuclear weapons be used early enough in a war, if necessayr, to prevent any loss of territory. The mines, which would be set off by remote control, would provide "early nuclear warning."

Up to 1955, plans called for withdrawing behind the Rhine River on Germany's western border in the face of any attack. The defense line was moved east as NATO forces proved stronger. Now it is the Iron Curtain itself.

CITIES

officials on building inspection and planning problems.

Belvedere's street sweeper twice a week rumbles down Tiburon's business district, about two blocks on Main Street and Tiburon Boulevard.

No one has yet been so crass as to mention money for the trade of services.

But money is a prime factor in one question city councilmen are gently asking. The small business district serving both cities is split by a ludicrous boundary line which slices its way right through some shops in the Boardwalk Shopping Center.

Belvedere councilmen say they kept quiet about the peculiar boundary during Tiburon incorporation moves. They explain that they didn't want to start a fight which might have muddled voters' ideas. But today they would like a bit more of the business area, and its taxes, though they might have made it part of the city in the years before Tiburon incorporation.

Belvedere now makes about $5,800 yearly in sales tax returns from its share of the business area. Tiburon will make more than $25,000, though the figure includes some business not right on the joint boundary of the cities.

Belvedere would like a bigger share and polite talk is expected to continue between the administrators of the two cities, with each council looking over different shoulders.

Belvedere police officially keep an eye on the Boardwalk business area within their city and unofficially on the part in Tiburon. Sheriff's deputies also may cross the line as they patrol in Tiburon—for who is to know which half of a store is in which city?

The "police" of Tiburon are deputies under contract to the city to patrol three and one-half of each eight hour shift within the city. Some Tiburon merchants are far from pleased with the protection they get.

There is the hypothetical possibility that the two next-door cities could share the already established Belvedere police force.

But Belvedere has a population of 2,350 and has almost filled every lot with homes. It cannot grow because it is hemmed in by Tiburon. On the long peninsula, all roads eventually lead to Belvedere, but they have to go through Tiburon to do it.

Tiburon has a population of 6,090 and has plenty of space for more construction and the possibility of annexation of adjacent land, depending on the outcome of the Alto incorporation plans.

Using Belvedere's police force, with the disparate size and areas of the two cities, might be like the tail wagging the dog.

"Who would the chief belong to?" asks Belvedere City Mgr. William L. Cavalli. "Who's department would it be?" But he notes that some cities have contracted with others for police protection—which in a way is what Tiburon may do.

Tiburon City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose is expecting to get off a letter to county officials asking cost estimates for setting up and manning for local use, a sheriff's substation in Tiburon.

The substation would provide policing services "somewhere between the service we're now getting and a full local police department, which I do not now see as financially possible, until the city grows," Rose says.

Due to the peculiarities of state law and the date of incorporation of Tiburon, on June 23, the new city will be relatively broke until the next fiscal year when property tax monies begin coming in.

Tomorrow: Drainage and other problems.

Doctor Tells Of Woman's Threat Call

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO—Dr. Robert K. Corbett mentioned only to his brother, the late Donald G. Corbett Jr. of Sausalito, threats allegedly made by Lupe Alice Estrada, Dr. Corbett testified in a San Francisco federal court yesterday as his trial on charges of aborting Miss Estrada drew near a close.

After phoning that she was pregnant, Dr. Corbett said, Miss Estrada "cried, became hysterical and said she couldn't tolerate another child. She was going to incriminate me unless I'd help her. If she had to, she would commit suicide and would leave a note saying I was the one who got her pregnant."

Under cross-examination by U. S. Attorney Cecil F. Poole, Corbett said he hadn't reported this to any authorities for "when you work at San Francisco Hospital, you get a fair number of this type of thing — I've had threats before, it's not uncommon".

But he said he had mentioned the matter to his brother, who was killed by two robbers in his Sausalito apartment March 24.

Dr. Corbett explained that Miss Estrada had been an outpatient for varicose veins and that "further child bearing could present difficulties." He denied performing any abortion, as well as responsibility for her pregnancy.

He said the threats were voiced after he had told Miss Estrada that he could neither handle an abortion himself or recomend anyone who could.

Larkspur School Trustees Due Room Drawings

The Larkspur School District board tonight will receive working drawings from architects Rockwell and Banwell for new classrooms at the Henry C. Hall and San Clemente schools, at the board meeting set for 8 p.m. at the Larkspur - Corte Madera School.

The board will also hear a report from a study committee of the San Clemente School Parent-Teacher Assn. on the need for buses for seventh and eighth graders who must walk to Neil Cummins School, and possibly on the need for a sidewalk on Paradise Drive near Highway 101.

A request to increase hours of the library clerk from three to five hours a day will also be considered.

WALLS COME TUMBLING DOWN

Wreckers have come to the Northwestern Pacific Railroad yards in Tiburon to begin tearing down one of five old wooden buildings which are to be demolished. The yard was closed down last year. Wildcat Pickets Halt Moonport Construction

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Wildcat picket lines today turned away hundreds of space construction workers and brought major work to a standstill on the huge 750-million-dollar Merritt Island moonport.

Pickets were also set up at the main entrances to the nearby Patrick Air Force Base, headquarters of the Atlantic Missile Testing Range, and construction work on a one-million-dollar laboratory at the base was stopped.

The pickets, members of Carpenters Union Local 1685, gathered at all major entrances to the sprawling project Apollo spaceport on Merritt Island, but there were no pickets at entrances to the main missile center at Cape Kennedy itself. The walkout was in protest of non-union labor used on one project.

At least 300 ironworkers did not show up at their jobs on the huge 52-story Saturn-5 moon rocket assembly building and a spokesman for the American Bridge Co. said work had apparently stopped for the day. The 100-million-dollar building is about half finished.

Today's tieup was the fourth major labor stoppage of the year at the sprawling spaceport that will be the base for America's manned lunar landing program. Earlier stoppages were halted by court order.

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson has returned from a European tour of the University of California's overseas campuses convinced that they offer students an outstanding academic opportunity.

Rodda To Work For Pay Hikes

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State Sen. Albert S. Rodda (D-Sacramento) said yesterday he would ask the 1965 Legislature to give state employees a pay raise if Gov. Edmund G. Brown won't.

"I notice the governor will not include salary funds in the budget," said Rodda, commenting on Brown's news conference statement that his "bare bones" 1965 budget won't include the raises.

"I think this is unfortunate," Rodda said. "The Legislature will have to make the necessary provision, by at least accepting the recommendation of the state personnel board . . . I intend to introduce the necessary legislation."

The board recommended last week that state employees get raises of 2.5 per cent to 24 per cent to bring them in line with pay in similar positions outside state employment.

Ex-Pentagon Aides Indicted On Embezzling U.S. Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury in Alexandria, Va., has returned a 43-count indictment against three career former Defense Department employes, charging they embezzled some $66,000 in government funds over three years.

Indicted Wednesday were:

J. Robert Loftis, 52, an administrative assistant to secretaries of defense from 1958 until he retired last March;

William H. Godel, 43, former deputy director for management of the Advance Research Projects Agency, who was removed from his job Aug. 24, and

John A. Wylie, 47, former head of the Budget and Finance branch in the Pentagon's administrative office. He was granted disability retirement after being served with a notice of intention of removal last Jan. 7.

Acting Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said $12,000 of the stolen funds has been recovered.

Price-Fix Suits Reported Settled

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Fourteen antitrust damage suits against six manufacturers of heavy electrical equipment have been settled out of court for $800,000, the United Gas Improvement Co. said yesterday.

The suits were filed in 1962 and were based on criminal antitrust proceedings brought against the manufacturers by the U. S. Justice Department. The government accused the firms of conspiring to fix prices on their products.

Fedorenko conferred with Thant Monday.

At Saigon 500 Buddhist monks and nuns ended a 24-hour hunger strike today, but Buddhist leaders made plans to keep up their campaign against the government of Premier Tran Van Huong.

Reliable sources predicted bigger hunger strikes and street demonstrations.

The Buddhist drive to topple Huong's regime was credited with causing the resignations yesterday of Education and Cultural Minister Phan Tan Chuc and Tran Thuc Linh, a deputy chief of the Information Ministry.

Other ministers are known to be wanting to get out of the government, but Huong has asked that they remain until the situation has calmed.

robbery-murder of Cesar Elagan, a bartender-janitor at a Club Tropicana in San Francisco, according to records. He is serving a life term, was received by the prison system in 1957 from San Francisco County.

Herman was scheduled for arraignment on the formal charge at 1:30 p.m. today before Marin Municipal Judge Leonard A. Thomas.

Herman, an employee at the prison for the past four years, allegedly is part of a smuggling operation which involved some $30,000 worth of heroin and the inhalant.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said the operation may have been going on for six months, and that 10 ounces of heroin may have been brought into the prison during that time.

Criminal investigator Donald E. Midyett of Bales' office said it was believed that Herman was bringing the narcotics inside cigarette packages and passing it on to Gonzales, a go-between.

Prison officials said Gonzales may be the "king-pin" of the narcotics ring inside the institution. He was placed in isolation yesterday. They added 11 other inmates in all may be involved.

The case was uncovered while authorities were investigating the cause of frequent outbursts between two rival factions of prisoners.

Stannard, assistant secretary, to compile statistics on the attendance and assessed valuation of the proposal for its next session.

Committee member Mrs. Joseph Wallace asked that statistics also be prepared on a two-way, north-south split that would place Reed, Mill Valley, Bolinas-Stinson and Sausalito and the section of the Larkspur District east of Highway 101 in one district, and the remainder of the area in another.

Mrs. A. E. Larsen, a committee member, requested figures for a similarly two-way split with the Corte Madera ridge as the main dividing line.

Committee members also said they wanted estimates on the incentive money that would be available under the Unruh Education Act for each of the proposals.

Walf. Oglesby, state field representative for school district organization, said the "bonus" money under the act varies from $15 per pupil downward.

The committee also received a letter from Leo Souza, trustee of the Reed Union School District, suggesting areas of study for the committee including de facto regregation, financial bases, and special educational program and services.

Members Earl Marshall and John Hamren were absent.

Bolinas Bay Sewage Will Be Prohibited

Special to the I-J

OAKLAND — Dumping of either treated or untreated sewage in Bolinas Bay will be prohibited under terms of a long-range plan and policy for water pollution control adopted after a one and one-half hour hearing this morning by the Regional Water Pollution Control Board No. 2 at the State Office Building here.

Decision to follow its staff recommendations for a stiff policy overrode protests by several Bolinas residents but was in line with views voiced at the meeting by Kelvin J. Nelson, Marin County parks and recreation director, and representatives of sportsmen groups and other organizations.

Sherman R. Smith, chairman of the Bolinas Public Utility District Board, spoke on behalf of less rigid pollution control with support of others from Bolinas including James Kerr, a board member. The attitude of the district board was embodied in a letter after a recent meeting when it was decided to have representation, and to explain plans for a 40,000-gallon treatment plant.

Today's meeting was postponed from October on request of the district, following an Aug. 20 hearing by the water pollution board. Both Marin County and the state had recommended that clamming in Bolinas Bay be banned unless the dumping of sewage was forbidden, whereas the utilities district said that any alternative to the present dumping system would not be economically feasible.

Effect of today's action will not immediately ban further dumping, it was explained. But it sets policy of the control board and provides guide-lines to shape the handling of cases in the future.

tion munitions would be emplaced.

These plans are somewhat different from those attributed yesterday to the West Germans, who reportedly were advocating emplacement of the mines on a permanent basis. NATO plans call for putting them down only if there is international tension, and if a communist attack across the Iron Curtain appears to be a possibility.

The reported German proposal did serve to call attention to concern in the West German government that nuclear weapons be used early enough in a war, if necessayr, to prevent any loss of territory. The mines, which would be set off by remote control, would provide "early nuclear warning."

Up to 1955, plans called for withdrawing behind the Rhine River on Germany's western border in the face of any attack. The defense line was moved east as NATO forces proved stronger. Now it is the Iron Curtain itself.

CITIES

officials on building inspection and planning problems.

Belvedere's street sweeper twice a week rumbles down Tiburon's business district, about two blocks on Main Street and Tiburon Boulevard.

No one has yet been so crass as to mention money for the trade of services.

But money is a prime factor in one question city councilmen are gently asking. The small business district serving both cities is split by a ludicrous boundary line which slices its way right through some shops in the Boardwalk Shopping Center.

Belvedere councilmen say they kept quiet about the peculiar boundary during Tiburon incorporation moves. They explain that they didn't want to start a fight which might have muddled voters' ideas. But today they would like a bit more of the business area, and its taxes, though they might have made it part of the city in the years before Tiburon incorporation.

Belvedere now makes about $5,800 yearly in sales tax returns from its share of the business area. Tiburon will make more than $25,000, though the figure includes some business not right on the joint boundary of the cities.

Belvedere would like a bigger share and polite talk is expected to continue between the administrators of the two cities, with each council looking over different shoulders.

Belvedere police officially keep an eye on the Boardwalk business area within their city and unofficially on the part in Tiburon. Sheriff's deputies also may cross the line as they patrol in Tiburon—for who is to know which half of a store is in which city?

The "police" of Tiburon are deputies under contract to the city to patrol three and one-half of each eight hour shift within the city. Some Tiburon merchants are far from pleased with the protection they get.

There is the hypothetical possibility that the two next-door cities could share the already established Belvedere police force.

But Belvedere has a population of 2,350 and has almost filled every lot with homes. It cannot grow because it is hemmed in by Tiburon. On the long peninsula, all roads eventually lead to Belvedere, but they have to go through Tiburon to do it.

Tiburon has a population of 6,090 and has plenty of space for more construction and the possibility of annexation of adjacent land, depending on the outcome of the Alto incorporation plans.

Using Belvedere's police force, with the disparate size and areas of the two cities, might be like the tail wagging the dog.

"Who would the chief belong to?" asks Belvedere City Mgr. William L. Cavalli. "Who's department would it be?" But he notes that some cities have contracted with others for police protection—which in a way is what Tiburon may do.

Tiburon City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose is expecting to get off a letter to county officials asking cost estimates for setting up and manning for local use, a sheriff's substation in Tiburon.

The substation would provide policing services "somewhere between the service we're now getting and a full local police department, which I do not now see as financially possible, until the city grows," Rose says.

Due to the peculiarities of state law and the date of incorporation of Tiburon, on June 23, the new city will be relatively broke until the next fiscal year when property tax monies begin coming in.

Tomorrow: Drainage and other problems.

Doctor Tells Of Woman's Threat Call

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO—Dr. Robert K. Corbett mentioned only to his brother, the late Donald G. Corbett Jr. of Sausalito, threats allegedly made by Lupe Alice Estrada, Dr. Corbett testified in a San Francisco federal court yesterday as his trial on charges of aborting Miss Estrada drew near a close.

After phoning that she was pregnant, Dr. Corbett said, Miss Estrada "cried, became hysterical and said she couldn't tolerate another child. She was going to incriminate me unless I'd help her. If she had to, she would commit suicide and would leave a note saying I was the one who got her pregnant."

Under cross-examination by U. S. Attorney Cecil F. Poole, Corbett said he hadn't reported this to any authorities for "when you work at San Francisco Hospital, you get a fair number of this type of thing — I've had threats before, it's not uncommon".

But he said he had mentioned the matter to his brother, who was killed by two robbers in his Sausalito apartment March 24.

Dr. Corbett explained that Miss Estrada had been an outpatient for varicose veins and that "further child bearing could present difficulties." He denied performing any abortion, as well as responsibility for her pregnancy.

He said the threats were voiced after he had told Miss Estrada that he could neither handle an abortion himself or recomend anyone who could.

Larkspur School Trustees Due Room Drawings

The Larkspur School District board tonight will receive working drawings from architects Rockwell and Banwell for new classrooms at the Henry C. Hall and San Clemente schools, at the board meeting set for 8 p.m. at the Larkspur - Corte Madera School.

The new rooms are expected to be completed by the opening of the fall semester in September.

The board will also hear a report from a study committee of the San Clemente School Parent-Teacher Assn. on the need for buses for seventh and eighth graders who must walk to Neil Cummins School, and possibly on the need for a sidewalk on Paradise Drive near Highway 101.

A request to increase hours of the library clerk from three to five hours a day will also be considered.

WALLS COME TUMBLING DOWN

Wreckers have come to the Northwestern Pacific Railroad yards in Tiburon to begin tearing down one of five old wooden buildings which are to be demolished. The yard was closed down last year. James Rowlette of San Rafael mans the giant shovel of Ghilotti Brothers Construction Co., San Rafael, as it chomps bites from the buildings and bowls them over.

Wildcat Pickets Halt Moonport Construction

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Wildcat picket lines today turned away hundreds of space construction workers and brought major work to a standstill on the huge 750-million-dollar Merritt Island moonport.

Pickets were also set up at the main entrances to the nearby Patrick Air Force Base, headquarters of the Atlantic Missile Testing Range, and construction work on a one-million-dollar laboratory at the base was stopped.

The pickets, members of Carpenters Union Local 1685, gathered at all major entrances to the sprawling project Apollo spaceport on Merritt Island, but there were no pickets at entrances to the main missile center at Cape Kennedy itself. The walkout was in protest of nonunion labor used on one project.

At least 300 ironworkers did not show up at their jobs on the huge 52-story Saturn-5 moon rocket assembly building and a spokesman for the American Bridge Co. said work had apparently stopped for the day. The 100-million-dollar building is about half finished.

Today's tieup was the fourth major labor stoppage of the year at the sprawling spaceport that will be the base for America's manned lunar landing program. Earlier stoppages were halted by court order.

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson has returned from a European tour of the University of California's overseas campuses convinced that they offer students an outstanding academic opportunity.

Rodda To Work For Pay Hikes

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State Sen. Albert S. Rodda (D-Sacramento) said yesterday he would ask the 1965 Legislature to give state employees a pay raise if Gov. Edmund G. Brown won't.

"I notice the governor will not include salary funds in the budget," said Rodda, commenting on Brown's news conference statement that his "bare bones" 1965 budget won't include the raises.

"I think this is unfortunate," Rodda said. "The Legislature will have to make the necessary provision, by at least accepting the recommendation of the state personnel board . . . I intend to introduce the necessary legislation."

The board recommended last week that state employees get raises of 2.5 per cent to 24 per cent to bring them in line with pay in similar positions outside state employment.

Ex-Pentagon Aides Indicted On Embezzling U.S. Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury in Alexandria, Va., has returned a 43-count indictment against three career former Defense Department employes, charging they embezzled some $66,000 in government funds over three years.

Indicted Wednesday were:

J. Robert Loftis, 52, an administrative assistant to secretaries of defense from 1958 until he retired last March;

William H. Godel, 43, former deputy director for management of the Advance Research Projects Agency, who was removed from his job Aug. 24, and

John A. Wylie, 47, former head of the Budget and Finance branch in the Pentagon's administrative office. He was granted disability retirement after being served with a notice of intention of removal last Jan. 7.

Acting Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said $12,000 of the stolen funds has been recovered.

Price-Fix Suits Reported Settled

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Fourteen antitrust damage suits against six manufacturers of heavy electrical equipment have been settled out of court for $800,000, the United Gas Improvement Co. said yesterday.

The suits were filed in 1962 and were based on criminal antitrust proceedings brought against the manufacturers by the U. S. Justice Department. The government accused the firms of conspiring to fix prices on their products.

Council Wants Power On Underground Lines

JORDAN L. MARTINELLI JR.
New Ross councilman

Ross Town Council last night introduced an ordinance change to give itself the power to require new subdivisions to have underground utilities.

The ordinance would not require underground utilities but merely give the council discretion to require them. Public hearing on the ordinance change was held last night and it was given first reading by title only. Council will vote on the change Jan. 14.

There was no public audience last night for the hearings on the underground utility ordinance change or on several changes to tighten up the town's zoning code.

The zoning changes given first reading last night were:

1. Rezoning a small portion of the commercial district near the post office as residential because it is in a subdivision.

2. A requirement that all buildings on residential lots not cover more than 20 per cent of the lot. Previous requirements applied to the "main building" only.

3. Requirement that a lot's yard area cannot include any area which is also a vehicle easement for an adjacent lot.

4. Requirement that three parking spaces be provided for each 500 square fee on new or renovated building space in the downtown area.

5. Requirement that builder pay engineering fees for survey of hillside lot prior to hearing on building permit rather than prior to issuance of the permit.

6. That no portion of any swimming pool be closer than 25 feet to any street line.

Ross Council Appoints Martinelli

Ross Town Council last night appointed Jordan L. Martinelli Jr. of Glenwood Avenue and Upper Road, Ross, to take the place of councilman William C. Bricca, who resigned last week.

Martinelli, 40, is vice president of the Marin County Savings and Loan Ass'n and has been active in civic affairs for several years.

He is head of the 1964 Marin Cancer Crusade and as a vice president of the Marin Humane Society.

Martinelli is a former president of the Greater San Rafael Chamber of Commerce and member of the San Anselmo City Council.

Councilman Bricca told his fellow councilmen that he resigned because of business pressures. He is senior counsel to the State Public Utilities Commission.

Used Car Smog Device Is Delayed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The State Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board delayed indefinitely yesterday the deadline for installation of smog control devices on used cars.

The board denied certification of a device submitted by the Walker Manufacturing Co. on the grounds that cost of installation, running from $76.50 to $91.15, and annual maintenance of about $50 was excessive.

Favorable action would have triggered a state law requiring used cars to have a smog control system within one year. The law states that when two such devices have been approved, the requirement goes into effect automatically. One device has already been approved.

Bank Bag, $2,500 Vanish From Restaurant Office

A bank deposit bag containing $2,527.81 in cash and $400 in checks was stolen yesterday from the office of Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera yesterday.

Restaurant manager Maurice Campbell of 400 Canal Street, San Rafael, told Corte Madera police he counted the money and put it in the bag at 11:30 a.m., intending to take it to the bank.

However, he was called away for a few minutes and later became busy in the kitchen during the luncheon rush.

When he left the office, he put the bag on a shelf, rather than in the safe, thinking he would be back soon. An hour later, when he returned to the office, the bag was gone.

The office opens into a dining room which was not in use yesterday noon.

However, police said the door to the office can be seen from the bar, opposite the coffee shop.

Police were investigating today, starting by questioning employees to see if anyone was seen in or near the office.

The white canvas bag bore the Bank of America name.

Stolen Auto Is Recovered

Police Officer Douglas Stone made a quick capture Tuesday of a man with a stolen car, thus proving the value of communications.

Driving south on Miller Avenue at 7 p.m. Tuesday he received a radio message from county communications center to watch for a stolen car out of Santa Rosa. Moments later, at 240 Miller Avenue, Stone spotted the car.

Arrested was George Bryant Elswick, on a Santa Rosa police warrant, for allegedly having stolen the 1964 Chevrolet pickup truck of Paul D. Henning, Santa Rosa. Elswick, 49, a transient laborer, was placed in Marin County jail.

Unification Votes Pass

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — Seven school districts were being consolidated yesterday into two in the first unifications voted in San Mateo County history.

The vote was 844-185 to unify four districts in the Half Moon Bay area. It was 208-55 to unify three in the Pescadero area.

The unifications will become effective next July 1, with details as to location of the schools and other matters yet to be worked out.

Baldwin Speaks For Cal Rebels

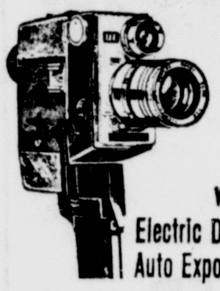

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Negro author James Baldwin spoke Wednesday night in defense of the University of California rebels arrested Dec. 3 in an all-night campus sit-in.

Baldwin told the partly filled Masonic Auditorium, where listeners paid up to $3.50 for a seat:

"There's nothing under heaven you shouldn't think about. The main principle is that we're able to face each other, maybe love each other, and certainly, at least, live with each other."

WASHED OUT OF SCHOOL

Edward T. Kores Jr., 15, combs his hair the way he likes it. School officials, however, do not approve and have suspended young Kores from Westbrook (Conn.) High School where he is a freshman. The boy's parents said yesterday they will go to court if necessary to get him reinstated. (AP Wirephoto)

Rep. Halleck Appears Still In Driver's Seat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Charles A. Halleck's continued rule as head of House Republicans seem assured today as the party's depleted ranks went home after their first post-election conference.

The matter of whether the Indianan should be replaced as part of a move to give the party a new image wasn't even discussed at yesterday's conference.

It could be brought up at the next scheduled meeting on the morning of Jan. 4, the day the new Congress convenes with the House Republican membership almost 40 votes short of what it now is.

Spokesmen for a group seeking a leadership change and changes in leadership practices said privately there was no one now in sight with strength enough to challenge Halleck. But they clung to a hope that something might happen between now and January to change the outlook.

The decision on who will be floor leader in the new Congress will be made Jan. 4.

Major unfinished action may be a move to have the Republicans endorse the statement of Republican governors interpreted by many as a call for removal of Dean Burch as chairman of the Republican National Committee.

An estimated 119 Republicans attended the conference, including about 18 who were defeated last month.

Injured As Car Lands In Creek

Charles J. Murray III, 33, of 41 Rockridge Road, Woodacre, was listed in fair condition today in Marin General Hospital after his car skidded across San Geronimo Valley Road and into a creek at 10:30 p.m. yesterday.

He received severe facial cuts and broken bones in his face and knees. The California Highway Patrol reported Murray was headed north on Central Avenue and came to the T-intersection with San Geronimo Valley Road.

In his effort to stop to take the corner, the car went into a skid, crossed San Geronimo Valley Road, narrowly missed a power pole and then a tree and landed in the creek.

Living Quarters Proposal Gains

A proposal that a new office and manager's living quarters be constructed at the Meadowsweet Motel was approved tentatively last night by the Corte Madera Board of Adjustment, although the town zoning ordinance does not allow living units in the profession and administrative office zone.

Owner Z. R. Larson, 91 Casa Buena Drive, was told he would also have to receive approval from the board of design, the planning commission and the town council for the non-conforming use.

Woman Fined $166

Jean Simmons Burchard, 38, of 727 Alta Vista Road, Mill Valley, was fined $166 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. She was arrested Nov. 24 on Glen Court by Sausalito police.

Charge Dismissed Against Firm's Aide

Two felony counts, embezzlement and forgery, were dismissed against Joe Garcia, 39, former business representative of S and A Motors in Mill Valley, yesterday by Marin Municipal Judge Leonard A. Thomas.

The dismissal was on recommendation of the district attorney's office on grounds of insufficient evidence.

U.C. Faculty Plan Gets New Support

BERKELEY (AP) — Support is growing for an academic senate proposal to allow more political freedom and to place control of student discipline in the hands of the faculty at University of California's Berkeley campus.

On the eve of a meeting at which the board of regents will try to resolve the smoldering turmoil at the Berkeley campus, several groups have urged the regents to support the solution proposed by the Academic Senate.

The regents, meeting in Los Angeles tomorrow will climax nearly three months of controversy, during which four massive demonstrations were held on campus by rebellious students. During the last demonstration, 784 persons, including 590 students were arrested and charged after an all night sit-in at Sproul Hall, the Berkeley administration building.

Some regents have voiced disapproval of the proposal by the Berkeley faculty.

Chairman Edward Carter conceded that the problem was complicated and added that he has "no idea" what course the board will take.

The faculty proposals, which were approved 824-115 by the academic senate last week, will be presented to the regents by U.C. President Clark Kerr.

The dispute is over student demands for campus political freedom without limit.

The campus Free Speech Movement has sent the regents a petition containing 9,881 student signatures.

THE CHRISTMAS STORY

don't you ever have a thought beyond your work?"

"Why, yes, Samuel, I think about many things."

"What, for instance?"

"Oh—the law."

"Bah! I and many like me are tired of being taught about the patriarchs and the judges and the prophets — the history of Israel. We have had enough of being ruled by foreign powers; we are all slaves, run by Herod for the benefit of Rome. We want to be free!"

"Oh," said Joseph. "That again! Better lower your voice, Samuel."

The danger was real. Roman spies were everywhere. One learned not to speak ideas aloud. In the last century there had been a series of hapless rebellions in the land. Some of the best young men of the province had perished in those feeble and foredoomed revolts.

"Don't you love your own country?" prodded Samuel. "Aren't you one of us in spirit, at least?"

Joseph's smile was quizzical. Poor workman that he was, he belonged to the house of David and his line ran back, all the way to Jacob who was of Isaac, who was of Abraham; and farther than that, even, to Seth who was of Adam, who was of God.

This revolutionist really did want to save Israel, Joseph thought. But how? By uprising, by blood, by death. In the holy books prophets had promised salvation for their people. But salvation was to come, according to these ancient writers, when a messenger was born, the long-promised Messiah, who would lead the nation to peace. Joseph believed his books, therefore a good man must not turn to blood and death to hasten salvation.

"As a sensible man," Samuel said, "how can you depend on promises made hundreds of years ago, when today—"

"When today," Joseph interrupted, "The God of Israel is still the same Lord. We must rely on him. The ruin of our people has always been to depart from faith and depend on their powers. We know that a deliverer will come—and we've just got to wait."

JOSEPH

"Do you think the Messiah is coming tomorrow—perhaps the next day?"

"Who knows?" asked Joseph simply.

"I would still like to know," persisted Samuel, "whether you expect to live to know the Messiah."

Joseph chuckled. What a fanciful idea!

"A workman like me know Him? No, I look forward to a quiet life."

"And lonely, Joseph. You said so."

Joseph waggled a great forefinger amiably.

"Not at all. Like any other man, I want a wife in my house. . . ."

"Well, I hope you find the girl of your heart, my friend."

Joseph did not seem to be listening. He was staring out into the street as if he were expecting some wonderful vision.

"I have already found her," he confided. "She is very young — and very different from all other women."

"Come out of your trance, Joseph, and tell me how this girl is so different."

"She is not as any of the others are; that is all I know how to tell you. Look, Samuel, she is coming toward us now."

"Her walk is more than ordinarily graceful," said Samuel.

"Everything about her is more than ordinary," murmured Joseph, and there was a distant look in the blue eyes as if he were enraptured by the strains of music.

The shadowed street was almost empty as a girl came toward them. Dark hair framed the pale face above the light blue mantle and the intense blue eyes set so wide apart. She walked in grace.

"Joseph," said Samuel, lowering his voice, "there may be something in what you say. That girl is somehow different. Can it be the expression? It is most unusual; it is, why . . . look . . . it has me stammering, man. . . . Never have I seen such serenity on any face," he acknowledged. "It gives me a strange sort of feeling.

"No wonder you won't go with me to Jerusalem. Tell me, has that maiden promised . . ."

Joseph sank dismally on the bench.

"I have never even spoken to her," he admitted.

Samuel laid a hairy hand on the bald head.

"Shy as ever, Joseph," he teased. "You have to pluck up your courage, boy. Don't be losing time."

Joseph looked up with an air that gave a sudden strength to his face.

"I am not afraid," he said quietly.

Samuel snorted loudly. "You don't know her parents?"

"Not yet. They have just come here from Jerusalem."

"Have you never learned her name?"

"Her name," said Joseph, "is Mary!"

Proposition 14 Defended In Test Case

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A reply to a suit seeking to wipe out Proposition 14, the open housing measure overwhelmingly approved by California voters, has been filed in Superior Court.

The answer, filed yesterday for the defendant, said a landlord "has a right as a private citizen to be selective and to discriminate because of race and color in the use, possession and rental by tenants of real property."

The state constitutional amendment created by the approval of the proposition on Nov. 3 gave property owners "absolute discretion" to refuse to sell or rent to anyone.

Earlier this week a civil rights lawyer asked for an injunction to prevent the eviction of Clifton Hill, a Negro, of North Sacramento by a landlord because of race.

The landlord, Crawford Miller, agreed to be the defendant in the test case, civil rights lawyer Nathaniel Colley said.

'SAVE LIZARD ROCK'

A storm of signs dot Lizard Rock at Manor Drive and Marlin Avenue in Mill Valley since it was rumored the lot on which it stands was sold by Mr. and Mrs. Ross J. Benson. "Save Lizard Rock From a House!" "Don't Build" "No Builders Allowed" and "Save Nature" the signs read. Young Lizard Rock fans are (from left) James Whittlesey, 8, Peter Whittlesey, 9, and Craig Douglas, 9. Their mascot, Gigi, who also loves to climb the rock is one year old. Mrs. Benson said she and her husband still own the lot, it is not for sale and they have no plans to build. (Independent-Journal photo)

Some Reservists May Cut Out Weekly Drills

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are 181,600 Army enlisted reservists who, if they wish, can escape regular drills throughout the year under the new plan to merge Reserve units into the National Guard, it was learned today.

These are men who have served from four to 10 months on active duty under a special program and have a remaining reserve training obligation of up to 6 years, minus the time they spent on active duty.

Such an out will not be available in the future to young men who sign up in this "reserve enlisted program" as an alternative to being drafted for two years of active service.

The practice has been for them to enlist in either a Reserve or Guard unit, take their four to 10 months of basic training, then return to civilian life where they have been obligated to drill weekly and to go to summer training camp for two weeks each year.

The new program announced by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara last weekend gives such enlisted reservists a way of avoiding weekly drills, although some of them would be liable for the yearly two weeks' summer training.

Joint Rec Meeting

The Larkspur-Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission will meet at 7:30 p.m. today at the Larkspur-Corte Madera School to discuss the campaign for community support in Corte Madera for city financial aid to the recreation program.

More Turnover Expected In White House Top Circles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Strong indications that John A. McCone will resign shortly as director of the Central Intelligence Agency developed today along with a fresh flurry of speculation about Cabinet turnover.

McCone's return to private life would open another high-level post for President Lyndon B. Johnson to fill as he begins his new administration. Cyrus R. Vance, deputy secretary of defense, has been mentioned in some government quarters as a possible successor for the CIA post.

Johnson made his first Cabinet choice yesterday. He announced the resignation of Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges and named as his successor John T. Connor, 50, New Jersey drug manufacturer.

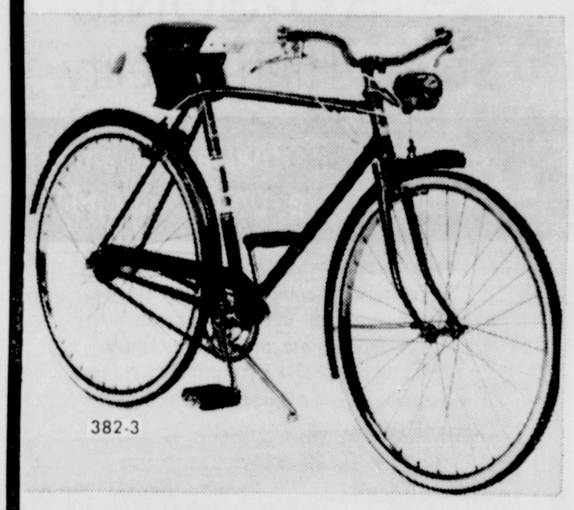

The announcement came on the heels of a report that Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon plans to resign within a few months. A Republican but a strong Johnson supporter, Dillon is expected to return to his family's New York investment banking business. In October Johnson asked him to stay on indefinitely; Dillon apparently feels he cannot.

The word "circus" originated in ancient Roman times. It comes from the Roman Circus Maximus and means "round."

The new double-decker parking lots are in service in San Rafael and have been since last Friday, but the top levels are not getting much use, at least, not during the morning when this picture was taken. This is the lot at the corner of Fifth Avenue and C Street. The other elevated lot is at Third Street and Lootens Place.

Highway Plans Hit For State Park Route

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The State Park Commission is prepared to go to the legislature if necessary to insure protection for state-owned parklands, a commission member told a Senate fact-finding committee yesterday.

Mrs. Margaret Owings, Big Sur, a member of the park commission, told the committee legislative action will be taken if a joint committee of highway and park commissioners fails to resolve Lake Tahoe and Prairie Creek freeway plans.

Mrs. Owings was one of four witnesses who criticized the highway commission for its proposed freeway routings through parklands. Sam Helwer, division of highways engineer in Eureka, defended the commission's proposed route through Prairie Creek Park and said 95 per cent of the local residents and industries favor the routing.

Mrs. Owings criticized the highway commission's proposed Prairie Creek freeway routes along Gold Beach and the bluff above. She also said the difference between two highway routings at Emerald Bay, Lake Tahoe would be a choice between "destruction or survival" for state parks in the area.

She instead advocated a route that would skirt the eastern edge of Prairie Creek Redwood Park and acknowledged it would cost 6 million dollars more to bypass a park valued at 50 million dollars.

Helwer said such an inland ridge route would require a fifth lane most of the way for logging trucks that would have to run at 10 miles per hour.

He also told the committee that the ridge route would require cutting 500 park redwoods and 1,800 more on private land, while the proposed Gold Beach route would require cutting 450 park redwoods and 500 on private land.

Helwer estimated that the widening of existing Highway 101, which has received some backing, would require the cutting of a total of 1,300 redwoods.

State resources administrator Hugo Fisher, state director of Parks and recreation Charles Deturk and Dr. Edgar Wayburn, vice president of the Sierra Club and spokesman for the Federation of Western Outdoor Clubs, testified in behalf of protecting parklands.

Fisher recommended giving the park commission a stronger hand in freeway route disputes with the highway commission. He said the park commission should share the authoritative role of the highway commission whenever a proposed highway would infringe on lands within the state park system.

Deturk reiterated his approval of a compromise freeway route across Jedediah Smith Redwoods State Park in Del Norte County, but he acknowledged he was wrong in believing it would not go through a section of National Tribute Grove, a World War II memorial.

Wayburn told the committee "It is long past time for a change in the planning of the highway commission itself."

Mill Valley Hires Parking Officer

William Davies of 1 Bayview Terrace, Mill Valley, has been hired by the city of Mill Valley as parking enforcement officer for the police department.

He will commence work Jan. 1, taking over duties of Sgt. John Imperiale who retires Dec. 31.

Davies, a captain of the Mill Valley Fire Department from 1945 to 1951, has been working as a carpenter foreman for Harley Ussery, a Tiburon contracting firm. He is to receive $436 per month.

Cities first appeared in our history about 5,000 years ago.

Spokesman For Alto Businesses Insists On Annexation Hearing

Rehearing of the controversial 137-acre Alto strip annexation before the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission will constitute "double jeopardy," Mill Valley Mayor Michael Wornum declared today in a panel discussion on radio KTIM's Sounding Board.

But Albert Bianchi, representing Alto businessmen opposed to Mill Valley annexation, not only wanted a rehearing in the Civic Center at 8 p.m. Monday but declared that a vote then will be against annexation.

Wornum said the four and one-half hour hearing Tuesday night had been represented as a final action. He urged "We should abide by that hearing, otherwise it was a waste of time." Its outcome was a 2-2 deadlock which, if not broken by subsequent vote, leaves Mill Valley free to continue annexation proceedings without LAFC approval.

Mill Valley was pictured by Bianchi as "a persistent but unwanted suitor" of the Alto area. "If marriage takes place," he said, "it won't be by consent."

"Any lady would like to be supported without requirement for her services," rejoined Wornum.

Things were even worse than that in the eyes of Alto Fire Chief Carl O. Heynen Jr., who carried the argument from matrimony into politics and war and felt Alto was "defending against aggression."

"It's like Hitler in Europe and the Japanese in the Pacific," said Heynen, warning against invasion of rights by use of power. If Mill Valley wants Alto, he added, it should buy the property.

Mill Valley planning director Harvey Bragdon joined Wornum in contention that Alto is a front yard to Mill Valley, properly a part by economic, social and geographic considerations, and that there should be "orderly take-over" with planning control of future development.

With about 4,000 feet of frontage along Highway 101, said Bragdon, only one-third is now developed but prospects are for extensive growth in which Mill Valley should plan and provide necessary services.

"You name them and we have them," said Wornum of these services though he conceded that some are available to "free riders." Heynen countered that he "didn't get the idea of a free ride" since Alto people contribute to city revenue by their purchases and other means.

Wornum argued that city control should integrate the disputed area into the Mill Valley plan before it is built up haphazardly, saying: "We feel so strongly that we have spent $2,000 extra on the East Mill Valley Plan to include it on the chance of influencing the county planning commission to see it develop in conformity with values that have made Mill Valley unique."

There seemed agreement that taxes on an annexed Alto strip would go up around 10 per cent though Bianchi grumbled that "bureaucratic estimates are notoriously incorrect."

Wornum said Mill Valley procedure is according to the law. Bianchi quoted a saying to the effect that "the man who follows the law is a scoundrel."

"That's from a lawyer!" Wornum retorted.

Kitty Oppenheimer acted as moderator of the program which will be rebroadcast by tape recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Marinite Hits Jordan Voting Machine Ties

Secretary of State Frank M. Jordon should either resign from his public office or sell his voting machine company, Roger Kent of Kent Woodlands declared today.

"He cannot ethically do both," said Kent, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee.

Kent's comments followed a disclosure that the secretary of state is owner of a company which has patents on a voting machine.

"As secretary of state, he is one of three members of the Voting Machine Commission," said Kent.

Jordon has claimed there is no conflict of interest in his ownership of the voting machine company and that he would disqualify himself on Commission votes involving his own machine.

"That's nonsense," Kent said. "How could Jordon owning a voting machine himself, intelligently and without prejudice decide the merits of any other machine presented to the Commission?"

"It seems fantastic to me that a man charged with his peculiar responsibility would even consider buying an interest in a voting machine," Kent concluded.

Gym Students Lose $75 To Locker Thief

Someone took $35 from the wallet of a 17-year-old San Rafael High School student yesterday while the wallet was in his gym locker.

Dennis R. Shepard, 17, of 224 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, told police he was certain the locker was locked and believed it was opened with a master key.

All master keys to the locks in the boys' locker room have been accounted for, said Jack Sims, Physical Education department head, but a tightened watch has been started. The locker room was unattended for no more than ten minutes between 1 and 2 p.m. yesterday, when the theft occurred, said Sims.

Sims said another youth, Norman Ordford, of 210 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, reported $40 was taken from his wallet Tuesday, probably while it was in his unlocked gym locker in the school.

Both wallets contained money for Christmas shopping.

Poll Defends Whirling World In Mill Valley

Small World Travel of Mill Valley has started a poll to determine who likes and who doesn't like its four foot sign of the revolving world.

First returns, owner Nancy Brown said today, are 62 yes votes, two no votes.

Mrs. Brown said her company got permission to install the $1,400 plastic globe from the city after saying the sign would not blink, nor flash. Then Ad-Lite-Neon of San Anselmo, who took one to one and one-half months to make the sign, got permission to place the sign on the eave since it is against the law to put it on the door.

The world revolves day and night and is lighted.

The Mill Valley Planning Commission has proposed an amended sign ordinance to prohibit whirling signs. If passed before the council, Jan. 4, it means no more revolving signs will be permitted and Small World has five years to make its world conform.

For each reply to the poll received before Jan. 4, the Small World Travel is giving 25 cents to the city's Community and Youth Center. With 64 replies, that's $16 so far.

In Chicago more than 960 separate governments will be found.

State To Hear Dixie Unification Proposal

The Marin County School District Organization Committee's recommendation for unification of the San Rafael and Dixie school districts is scheduled to be presented to the state board of education either Feb. 11 or 12 in San Francisco.

Robert Stannard, committee assistant secretary, told the committee last night that the recommendation is ready for submission.

Still undetermined is when a unification election would be held.

The Dixie School District board has requested that there be no election until after Dec. 31, 1965.

The committee's recommendation for unification of the Tomales High School District area also is scheduled to go to the February meeting of the state board.

Committee member Roy Parks, a trustee of the Tomales Joint Union High School District, said a new factor in the district is Synanon House at Marshall.

Some children from Synanon are attending school in the area, but it would be difficult to predict how many students might come from Synanon in the future, Parks said.

Yorty Declares Foe Should Quit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mayor Samuel W. Yorty says he thinks the courts would require Democratic Rep. James Roosevelt to resign his Congressional seat to seek Yorty's job as mayor.

And, Yorty told his news conference Wednesday, he doesn't think Roosevelt would be willing to give up his present job on the chance of becoming mayor.

Yorty, also a Democrat, did not say whether he will run for re-election. Roosevelt announced earlier this week that he would seek the job and said lawyers had told him he can do so without resigning from the House.

Cathedral To Be Basilica

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The historic St. Louis Cathedral in the French Quarter has been elevated to the status of a minor basilica by Pope Paul VI, Roman Catholic Archbishop John P. Cody said today.

The official title of the 170-year-old cathedral will be changed to Basilica of St. Louis King of France on its anniversary, Dec. 23.

Archbishop Cody will celebrate Christmas midnight mass in the basilica, his first act in the newly honored church.

The pope assigns the basilica title to churches because of their antiquity, dignity, historical importance or significance as centers of worship.

King's Conviction

Brown In Favor Of China Trade

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown has recommended that the United States open trade relations with Red China.

Brown yesterday told a news conference he believed trade with the communist Chinese "would benefit California.

"There are many hard-headed businessmen — and I'm not talking about 'liberals' — but hard-headed businessmen — who feel that trade with Red China would be beneficial," he added.

The Democratic governor said he would abide by any decision of the State Department on Red China trade. He pointed out that the United States and Red China recently had held talks in Poland.

Water Aide Promoted To Watchdog Dams

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Robert B. Jansen was promoted today to chief of the state office of dam safety in the Department of Water Resources.

Water Director William E. Warne announced the promotion of Jansen, who has been a deputy division engineer. He succeeds Walter A. Brown, head of the office for 12 years, who is designing to join a private engineering firm.

Barry Ponders Burch's Future

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The big three of the 1964 Republican presidential campaign huddled overnight at the hilltop home of Sen. Berry M. Goldwater discussing "a little internal friction in the party."

National GOP Chairman Dean Burch and New York Rep. William E. Miller, Goldwater's running mate in the November election, flew into Phoenix yesterday and were to leave today.

Burch said the meeting was to discuss the "internal friction" issue and also his future as party chairman. "It's hard to have any kind of discussions," the Tucson, Ariz., attorney said.

He said he expects to remain chairman after a meeting of the Republican National Committee in Chicago Jan. 22-23.

Ray Bliss, of Akron, Ohio, who prefers back-stage shadows to the spotlight, seemed today to have some strong backing as a compromise choice for Republican national chairman.

Bliss, typically, wasn't talking. But other reports indicated that if Burch resigns or is ousted when the 132 GOP national committeemen meet in Chicago, Bliss would be an acceptable replacement.

"It is his definite policy not to talk about it," Jack Flanagan, Bliss' press aide, said when asked about speculation mentioning Bliss.

But Flanagan said all top national Republican leaders except Goldwater have indicated Bliss would be acceptable. That list included former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Govs. William W. Scranton of Pennslyvania, Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and George Romney of Michigan.

Bliss might be acceptable to Goldwater, too, although the Burch forces contend they have the votes to keep their man in office.

Another topic of discussion at the Phoenix meeting was a letter Goldwater sent out asking some members of the national committee to give their views on mistakes made during the past presidential campaign.

The letter, labeled private and confidential, sought off-the-record advice on how to hold the "hard core" of voters who backed Goldwater and yet bring more into the GOP fold.

The Arizona senator is working on a paper analyzing mistakes made in the campaign and suggesting corrections. Goldwater indicated he intends to present his findings to the National Committee meeting in Chicago.

Donald J. Taylor, Tamalpais Fire Protection District commissioner, last night spoke to the club directors on the proposed city of Alto incorporation. The board discussed pros and cons on annexation to Mill Valley, reported Mrs. Rose De Martini, secretary, but took no action.

Sasha Makovkin was named as a new member of the board of directors.

UP 10 PER CENT

Prices Climb On Christmas Trees

It takes more of the long green to buy Christmas greens in Marin this year.

That appears as one hard fact of the jolly season. A spot check of Christmas tree lots by the Independent-Journal shows that wholesale prices are up 10 per cent, due to added transportation cost.

There's still a wide range of prices, however, and the enterprising shopper has a chance to bargain in many places where trees are being sold.

The most uniform standard for price comparison with last year seems to be the white fir tree, which in most places has gone up in price by about 25 cents a foot.

For example at United Markets in San Rafael and San Anselmo, at Fairfax Nursery, at Big Four Rent in Corte Madera, at the Mill Valley Youth Council lot in Mill Valley, the price of a seven foot white fir would be $10.50.

This is $1.75 more than it was last year in most of those places. Shorter white firs cost less per foot in some places, and tall ones more. At United Markets the price is a flat $1.50 a foot up to eight feet and $1.75 a foot over that. Other places offer a little more variation.

At Casper's in San Anselmo, white firs cost $1.85 a foot up to nine feet. These trees come from Carson Pass in the Sierra, high enough so the frost has "set" the needles, the store proprietor said. Casper's charged the same price last year.

At Fernando Clementino's lot at Second Street and Grant Avenue in Novato, white firs are going for $1 a foot, although "the better trees" bring $1.25 to $1.75 a foot. These trees come from Eureka, Mont. Clementino says he is averaging 85 to 90 cents a foot on all trees including white firs, Douglas firs, scotch pine and ponderosa pine.

Psychiatric Test For Embezzler

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Mrs. Beatrice C. Clark, 53, found guilty of embezzling $30,000 has been ordered to undergo a 90-day psychiatric examination.

Federal Judge A. J. Zirpoli issued the order yesterday and said Mrs. Clark would be sent to the federal prison at Terminal Island for observation.

He also sentenced her to five years imprisonment. The sentence could be modified after the test results are known.

Mrs. Clark was found guilty last week.

Duke Of Windsor Recovers Rapidly

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Duke of Windsor, who had four inches of artificial artery installed in his abdomen yesterday, was expected to be up and walking around today. He snapped back from the operation feeling well enough to give his American nurse an 'Enry 'Iggins type speech lesson.

There is an "outside chance" the former British king may be ready to leave the hospital by Cristmas, said his surgeon, Dr. Michael De Bakey, today.

College May Go Into Computer Work In Big Way

Center Could Take Over Jobs Now Being Handled By 'George'

By ROBERT COPPOCK

The College of Marin may go into the computer business whole hog.

The effect, school authorities hope, would be to break a log-jam in computer operation for Marin school districts now using "George," the IBM 1401 computer at the Civic Center.

The plan for establishing a cooperative data processing center at the center at the Kentfield campus will be broached to the trustees of the Marin Junior College District tonight by William J. Collins, who was studying the problem before his recent appointment as college vocational educational coordinator.

Louis Artiaco, systems analyst for the county schools office, has been making a study of school computer usage. His results will be reported to a special committee next week.

Under the plan, according to Collins, the separate school districts would contract with the center for time on a computer, probably an IBM 1440, a device a little smaller than the one used by the county.

At the same time, the computer would also be available as a teaching devices for classes at the college. By spending a minimum of 30 hours a week teaching with the machine, the school will earn a 20 per cent discount in the lease price from the manufacturer.

It is likely, Collins said, that the entire project can qualify for federal aid, half the total cost, under the National Defense Education Act or the Vocational Education Act.

The college now has an IBM 1620 computer, and yesterday received a high speed printer to make the machine more effective. The 1620 is used about 40 hours a week as a teaching device, and also is used to maintain the college district's records and do some business accounting.

If the center were established, the school district work would be done mainly when classes were not in session, at night and in early morning hours. The computer would, hopefully, be running 24 hours a day. Payroll and much budget work would remain with the county.

There has been dissatisfaction with the present arrangement with the county. The main problem has been priorities, according to James Fitzgerald of the Tamalpais Union High School District. The State often requires reports for special purposes quickly.

From the county standpoint, loss of the school work might be a relief. Arleigh Sewell, in charge of data processing for the county, reported that schools use about 14 per cent of the computer's time, not counting payroll and other operations the county would continue to handle.

Loss of the contract with schools would not mean a great deal of spare time on the county computer, Sewell said.

Camp Escapee Identified By Kansas Police

A San Quentin Prison conservation camp inmate who escaped Oct. 11 was apprehended in Goodland, Kansas, James W. L. Park, associate warden, reported today.

But he was released before Kansas authorities could be alerted.

The escapee, Terry Schnittspan, 31, was arrested on a charge of assault in the Kansas town. He was identified by the Federal Bureau of Investigation's finger print department, Park said. He told Kansas authorities his name was Johnny J. Cool.

By the time the finger print check could be completed, however, Schnittspan had paid his fine and was released.

Schnittspan, who with another inmate, Thomas Bryant, 22, walked away from the Parlin Fork conservation camp in Mendocino County.

Bryant is still at large.

Youth Injured In Bike Crash

Edward Tadefa, 22, of San Francisco, was riding down Richardson Street in Sausalito at 2:15 p.m. yesterday when, unable to make the turn onto Bridgeway, he rammed his racing bike into the metal railing along the sea wall.

Tadefa was treated for scalp and face cuts, multiple bruises and a mild cerebral concussion at Marin General Hospital, then transferred to San Francisco General Hospital and later released.

Police said Tadefa landed on the sidewalk. His bicycle's back tire had blown out, the front wheel was bent in half and the bike frame partially severed.

Library Service Canceled

Sausalito Library trustees last night agreed to abandon the McNaughton Book Rental Plan Jan. 1, following a one year trial period.

"We felt the regular collection reflects enough current demand that we do not need the additional books," said Mrs. James J. Carroll, board president, giving reason for the termination.

Noel D. Martin, trustee, was welcomed to the board last night. He succeeds Mrs. Walter Flagel who was killed recently in a Rome airplane accident.

Trustee M. Justin Herman agreed to investigate obtaining a government grant for funds for services in conjunction with the proposed new library.

Resignation of Mrs. Joy Holman Berry was accepted. She will work for the Mill Valley Public Library starting Jan. 15. The board went into closed session to discuss hiring an employee but took no action, according to Mrs. Carroll.

State May Purchase Assemblymen's Cars

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly is considering buying new automobiles for its members, and junking the present plan of allowing each lawmaker $150 a month to lease a car.

A spokesman for the Assembly Rules Committee said the new plan could save between $50,000 and $75,000 a year.

"We're just in the planning stage," he added.

He said that the committee has discussed purchasing Chevrolet Impalas for the members on a fleet basis.

At the end of each year, he said, the autos—which have a high resale value—would be turned in for new cars. The high turn-in value, he said, would result in major savings.

The lawmakers embarked upon the leased-car program a few years ago to provide transportation for members for legislative business. Before that, lawmakers got mileage allowances for using their own cars on legislative business—a method the rules committee considered too expensive.

But he said the leased car program also proved expensive. Some 60 lawmakers are given the $150 a month allowance.

Those who want more expensive autos must make up the difference from their own pockets.

Lawmakers also receive a credit card for use on legislative business.

Eichman Aide Gets 8 Years

VIENNA (UPI) — Franz Novak, former S.S. captain and Eichmann aide, was convicted today and sentenced to eight years in prison for his role in the wartime persecution of Jews.

However, a Vienna Court of Assizes acquitted the 51-year-old Novak of murder charges. Instead, it found him guilty of "common assault" by organizing the transportation of millions of Jews to Nazi death camps during World War II.

Novak, a native of Austria, had pleaded innocent to all charges and insisted he was only a "small wheel" in the Nazi slaughter machine.

Novak was arrested in January, 1961, after he had lived unrecognized in Austria for years.

Gunman In Miami Buried Under Beer

MIAMI (AP)—A gunman held up a Miami grocery store, robbed it of $125 and then made certain the clerk wouldn't call police too quickly.

The bandit made Daniel Gallagher lie on the floor. Then he piled cases of beer and soft drinks on the clerk's back and arms. The robber was almost out of sight before Gallagher was able to dig out from under.

Orange Trees 'Drink' Water

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) —Orange trees love water as well as ducks do.

Plant physiologists at the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station found that a healthy 15-year-old orange tree weighs 1,000 pounds and half the weight is water.

A 15-year-old tree can produce 500 pounds of fruit a year—and the fruit is 80 per cent water.

The scientists reported each citrus tree "drinks" 30 to 50 gallons of water a day.

De Gaulle Rocks Boat For Common Market

BRUSSELS (UPI) — France rocked the European boat again today by setting four new deadlines on Common Market farm prices and policy.

But a high market source said, "It is probably physically impossible to meet these deadlines because of the paper work involved. The French are really pushing now."

Informed sources said the new French deadlines — which fall due within two to six months— were presented yesterday during an ambassadorial meeting of the six-nation community.

Only 24 hours earlier, the Common Market met a previous French ultimatum by giving President Charles de Gaulle sweeping grain price concessions. De Gaulle threatened to "cease participation" in the market unless that ultimatum was met.

The latest French deadlines affected fruits and vegetables, beef, sugar, dairy produce and farm policy financial regulations. France demanded that common meat and dairy produce prices be fixed by Feb. 15, fruit and vegetable regulations by Feb. 28, policy regulations by May 1 and sugar regulations by June 1.

France also said it wanted community policy on fats, oils and rice speeded up.

The new French demands shocked Common Market officials. The community's executive commission had planned to spend 18 months on the negotiations France wants completed in six.

The commission was preparing a price bracket for beef to be applied in 1965-66, with a gradual harmonization of prices. France wants the prices firmly fixed in two months.

Only upper and lower dairy prices had been envisaged for 1965-66 — not single community prices. It took ministers more than a year to fix similar prices on grain.

The financial fund, which eventually will replace national farm subsidies, is expected to be a 1 billion dollar per year affair.

Community sugar marketing rules were considered years away.

CANINE'S CAR IS HEADACHE FOR POLICE

An atuomobile was found abandoned on a highway east of Lompoc. The registration showed it was owned by Patsy O'Toole of Berkeley.

Deputies asked police there to contact the owner.

Police discovered that Patsy O'Toole — is a dog.

Patsy's owner, Henry Sousa, told officers he had assisted in buying the car for a friend who failed to show up so he made the papers out with the dog's name.

How the car got to Lompoc nobody seems to know.

Notre Dame Scores First In Film, Book Court Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—Notre Dame, accustomed to scoring points on the athletic field, made them in State Supreme Court here today.

The university won a temporary injunction against the showing of a new motion picture entitled "John Goldfarb, Please Come Home," and further publication of the novel on which the film was based.

Supreme Court Justice Henry Clay Greenberg upheld the university's contention that the movie and novel "knowingly and illegally" misappropriated for commercial exploitation the name, symbols and prestige of the institution and its football team.

Greenberg also termed the movie script "ugly, vulgar and tawdry."

He said neither the film nor the novel by William Peter Blatty was in any way "dependent upon or logically related to the subject of the University of Notre Dame."

The movie, produced by 20th Century-Fox at a reported cost of 4 million dollars was to have opened on Christmas Day.

Its plot deals with a U-2 pilot, Wrong Way Goldfarb, who crashes his craft on a spying mission in Russia in a mythical Arabian kingdom. Goldfarb, a former All-America football player, is prevailed upon by the king to field a gridiron team to challenge Notre Dame in hopes of avenging a supposed wrong done the king's son by the university.

The Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, president of Notre Dame, has said that one scene depicts notre Dame players under the influence of harem girls and as "undisciplined gluttons and drunks."

Other defendants named in the suit are Doubleday and Co. Inc., and Fawcett Publications, Inc. They are the publishers of the hardcover and paperback editions of the book. Fawcett has said that as of Nov. 1, some 200,000 copies of the book had been distributed.

Notre Dame sought no monetary damages in its action, asking only to restrain exhibition of the film and further publication of the novel.

Pending further action on the injunction, Justice Greenberg said the parties may ask immediate trial of the isseus if they desire.

Voting Machines Error Reported

MARTINEZ (AP) — The Contra Costa County Grand Jury announced it had discovered last night serious errors in the vote count of the Nov. 3 election.

A hand count of one precinct's returns revealed that half the ballots did not register on the electric voting machine.

The jury decided there probably were disparities in the other 720 precincts and a hand count appeared unavoidable.

The irregularity was discovered by the county central Democratic committee investigating returns from selected precincts.

University, Labor Leader In Row Over Bracero Survey

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A University of California dean has denied a charge that a university report on farm labor was suppressed to help create the impression that only Mexican labor was available to growers.

The charge was made yesterday by state AFL-CIO leader Thomas L. Pitts.

The report, he said, was in a 17-page section deleted from a recent university study on the effects of ending Dec. 31 the program that permits Mexican farm labor to work in U.S. fields.

Issuance of only part of the U. C. study, Pitts said, enabled farm interests to assert at recent U. S. Department of Labor hearings that the study refuted a U.C.L.A study which found that domestic workers can be recruited for farm jobs under certain conditions.

Dr. Maurice Peterson, head of agriculture at U. C., said the statements appeared only in an early draft of the report to the State Employment Department and were later dropped because they "could not be fully documented from university research."

Pitts blamed the deletion on an apparent veto by powerful farm interests which have claimed that importation of Mexican labor must be continued because domestic workers are not available.

Pitts asked Gov. Brown to release the deleted section.

Pitts said the section made these points:

Continued importation of Mexicans "is likely to reduce incentives for the growers to develop and participate in programs to increase the employment of domestic workers."

Non-farm workers now receiving unemployment insurance benefits could be attracted to farm jobs if wages and working conditions were raised substantially.

Lack of unemployment insurance coverage for farm hands discourages domestic workers from seeking farm jobs.

"Young, unemployed, unskilled adults could provide an important source of manpower to perform the seasonal farm work," but "the low prestige of farm employment" is one reason young adults do not seek the work.

Norwegian Officer Accused Of Espionage

OSLO, Norway (UPI) — A Norwegian Air Force captain has been arrested and charged with spying for a foreign power, it was announced today.

A communique issued by Air Force Chief Lt. Gen. Wilhelm Mohr said the captain had been held since Dec. 2. The communique did not give the officer's name nor identify the country for which he allegedly spied.

No Place Safe From Car Crash

On the land, on the sea, in the park—there is no place that is safe.

An unidentified person reported to Mill Valley police at 7:45 a.m. yesterday that a car had struck the stripped down jet plane in Boyle Park. Hitting the plane's right wing, the vehicle moved the aircraft from two of its concrete mounts but not to the ground.

Investigating, Officer Robert Dyche found that a 1961 Chevrolet, found nose to plane in the park, belongs to Jacques J. Moriarty of 68 Locust Avenue. Mrs. Moriarty told police she parked her car in front of her house at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday and did not know it was stolen.

Defector To China

TAIPEI (UPI)—Former Nationalist Chinese Maj. Gen. Cheng Yi-ming, a nationalist intelligence agent in Macao, has defected to Communist China, a ranking intelligence official said today. The official said Cheng defected early this month after the government ordered him to Formosa to stand trial for corruption. He is reported to have embezzled more than $17,500.

Medicare Foe Softens; LBJ May Win In '65

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, a major congressional opponent of President Lyndon B. Johnson's health care plan, says he is prepared to support a program administered by Social Security but separately financed.

Mill's views amounted to a rough sketch of a program for the aged different from the administration's Social Security plan but compatible enough with it to give every indication that a compromise could be reached.

If this should prove to be the case, the decade-long controversy in Congress over health care for the aged could be settled by mid-1965. The program is one of Johnson's principal legislative goals.

Mills, an Arkansas Democrat, is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, which has been the graveyard of legislation for health care of the aged under Social Security.

"I could vote for a payroll tax to finance part of the cost of health care for the aged," Mills said when he was reached by telephone at his district office in Little Rock, Ark. He said further he has "no objection to Social Security administration of such a program." He added:

"It would be easier for them to do it, and it certainly would be less expensive than setting up a separate agency."

As for the prospects, he said, "I assume the committee would be able to work something out."

He declined to speculate on what benefits might be provided under a plan of the kind he would favor, or what its cost might be.

The Johnson-backed plan is essentially similar to those proposed earlier by President John F. Kennedy and congressional sponsors over the years. It would provide hospital, nursing home and some outpatient service — but not regular doctor care — for the aged.

The cost would be met, for Social Security retirees, by increasing the payroll tax now paid by both employers and employes and now used to provide old age, disability and similar cash benefits.

The general Treasury would make a contribution to pay for care of old persons not covered by Social Security. No test of income or assets would be required.

Conservation Areas Oppose Reappointment

SEATTLE (AP) — Representatives of conservation districts in seven Western states called yesterday for a constitutional amendment that would nullify the United States Supreme Court's reapportionment decision.

A resolution urging the amendment was adopted at the closing session of the Pacific-area meeting of the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

The delegates said the constitution should be revised to "specifically provide that where there is a bicameral legislature one house may be elected to office representing areas instead of population."

The Supreme Court, in its reapportionment decision, said both houses of legislatures must be elected on the basis of population to restore the " one man, one vote" concept. Thinly populated rural areas have regarded the decision as a blow to their legislative influence.

FOOD, GIFTS FOR POOR

Jack Riordan (left) and Joseph Ryan of the Little Brothers of Notre Dame pack and wrap food and gifts their organization will distribute to Chicago's elderly and forgotten at Christmas. Idea of the organization is to remember the poor without making them feel they are objects of charity. "Little things like serving champagne gives our friends a consciousness of their dignity," Brother Riordan said yesterday.

Leydecker Residence Held Sufficient For Board Position

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, who registered to vote in Marin just before he was first appointed to the board of supervisors in July of 1963, was qualified for the appointment under the law, in the opinion of the Marin County Counsel.

California's Government Code provides that each member of the board of supervisors "shall have been an elector of the district which he represents for at least one year immediately preceding his election."

Richard V. Godino, assistant county counsel, explained that Leydecker's qualifications came up for legal clarification at the time of his appointment.

"We determined that a supervisor must have all the qualifications of an elector but does not necessarily have to be a registered voter," said Godino. He added that several court cases, dating back to the 1890's, support that interpretation. In other words, the law draws a distinction between "elector" and "registered voter."

The Independent-Journal questioned the county counsel on the Leydecker case this morning because of a ruling handed down today by the state attorney general's office on a similar case in San Mateo County.

The San Mateo County charter requires that a supervisor must be a "qualified elector of the district which he represents."

The term "qualified elector" means "an elector who is entitled to vote," the attorney general ruled. "Thus the charter requires that a supervisor shall have attained the status of a voter."

However, Marin is governed by general law, which requires that a supervisor be an "elector" but not necessarily a registered voter.

Sausalito Planners Split On Rodeo Avenue As 101 Link

Major access route for Rodeo Avenue between Highway 101 and Bridgeway in Sausalito was approved last night by the Sausalito Planning Commission.

Approval, as recommended to city council, has the condition that the segment of road adjacent to Bayside School be shifted away from the school.

Vote was 4-2, with commissioners Robert L. Nilssen, chairman, and Roy Starbird voting "no" and commissioner Samuel Weinstein abstaining. The no votes, said Nissen, in general were because "we don't feel that a major access route as planned is advantageous to the school."

The route, as presented by city engineer B. J. Whitlow, calls for a 60 foot right-of-way commencing at 101, coming down around the Ardilla property and past the water tower, circling back to cross present Rodeo and follow the contour of the hill to the road adjacent to Bayside School. It then goes into Nevada Street at Olima Street, and down to Bridgeway.

The road is now a winding, dirt thoroughfare to the Ardilla apartments and improved from there to Spring Street.

Due to the lateness of the hour, about midnight, the commission continued to Jan. 20 committee reports on commercial use of the bus depot, a proposed subdivision ordinance and rezoning of the waterfront.

Liquor Stolen From Dinery In Mill Valley

Rattling of bottles awakened Mr. and Mrs. Earl Harkins early yesterday in Mill Valley.

Mrs. Mary Harkins called police, then went below the Harkins apartment to her restaurant, El Paseo, and discovered several bottles of liquor missing.

Entry was made to the restaurant at 15 Throckmorton Avenue through the transom by use of a bottle opener. The thief exited through the front door. Both screen and transom chain were broken.

The Harkins live in Apt. 17 above the restaurant. Mrs. Harkins said she is taking an inventory.

In Philadelphia there are more than 700 local governments.

Nazis' Final Senseless Masacre Recalled By Survivor Of 'Bulge'

KANSAS CITY (AP) — It was Dec. 17, 1944, and outside the little town of Malmedy in Belgium, Cpl. John A. O'Connell stood in a snowy field with some 150 members of Battery B, 285th Field Artillery.

They had been overrun by Hitler's panzer divisions and captured as the Germans made their last big push to stay the allied invasion in the Battle of the Bulge.

"We figured the rest of the world war would be a concentration camp for us," said O'Connell, now a middle-aged manager for a baking company. "I remember talking about it with my buddy Dave O'Grady."

Suddenly a German command car moved along the road beside them with the tanks from the 1st Panzer SS Regiment.

JOHN A. O'CONNELL
Anniversary of horror

"A man in the command car stood up and took careful aim and fired into us," O'Connell said. "That was the signal, I guess, for the machineguns in the tanks to fire. I took one in the shoulder and went down. Someone fell across my legs. I fell face down, my head on Dave's back. He had been hit in the chest. Then the German infantrymen began to fire into us.

"I couldn't believe it. I kept asking myself 'Why? Why?' Then I prayed. Dave was a Catholic like me and I tried to get him to pray but he just gasped."

Passing tanks added their fire "just like a bunch of kids with air rifles."

Then the Germans came into the field and clubbed, stabbed and shot the helpless captives on the ground.

Another bullet passed through O'Connell's hand. O'Grady died.

Late that afternoon the light began to fade and a German soldier walked up and shot O'Connell in the head. The bullet went through the side of his face and lodged in his mouth. He spat it out.

As darkness came near a whisper ran through the piles of dead and wounded soldiers.

"Who's alive, who's alive?"

"Me, me," came a few answers.

A group of wounded jumped up and ran for a patch of trees. About 15 made it safely through German fire.

About three miles they came near a town and O'Connell volunteered to go in and see if it was occupied by Germans or Americans.

"I figured I should have died in that field. I was going to get it over with, one way or another. So I went in.

"Americans were in the town. A colonel who listened wouldn't believe my story until my buddies came and told the same thing."

That was the end of the war for O'Connell.

Not until Jan. 13, 1945, when Americans recaptured the town did they find the evidence of one of the most infamous slaughters of unarmed prisoners.

Eighty-six bodies of American soldiers were found riddled with bullets in that snowy field three miles from Malmedy.

Pigs Stay Too Long At Fair

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—Personnel of the Kansas State Fair found a real forgetful farmer.

Thirty-five pigs bought at an auction remained at the fair several days with no one claiming them. Wallace White, fair secretary, checked records and found the pigs were sold to Leonard Drumright of Harper, Kansas.

Drumright, much embarrassed, said he bought a number of pigs at the esale and just forgot the last 35.

Jury Convicts Inmate Of Knife Possession

James S. Neuwerth, San Quentin Prison inmate, was found guilty by a Marin Superior Court jury yesterday of illegal possession of a knife. Judgement is scheduled Jan. 11.

Neuwerth, convicted June 14 of 1960 for first degree burglary in Los Angeles County, had the knife in prison last Sept. 14. The jury deliberated only 30 minutes.

There are about 150,000 different species of seed plants in the world.

Bank Apparently 'Taken' By D.C. Influence Peddler

Marin County businessmen were merely among the many whose associations with the Bobby Baker pals in Washington bought nothing better than experience, according to an analysis by Jerry Landauer in yesterday's Wall Street Journal.

"Mostly Bobby lived on reputation alone, as did his friends—members of 'Baker's Dozen,' as they called themselves," said Landauer. He said they traded on their proximity to "influence" and collected fat fees for doing nothing.

Summing up achievements so far of Senate investigators, Landauer says Baker traded on contacts he made when he became secretary to the Senate Democrats at 26—and "in general, Mr. Baker's buddies followed the money-making pattern he had developed" to put together 1.6 million dollars.

The evidence suggests, Landauer declared, "that in most encounters with Mr. Baker's 'friends' the businessmen got badly burned."

The San Rafael example:

"Wayne Bromley is one who seems to have benefitted from a friendship with Mr. Baker that dated to the 1940s when both were Senate pages.

"Certain California businessmen who in 1962 organized the Redwood National Bank promised and subsequently paid Mr. Bromley $5,000 to aid their quest for a national bank charter.

"Though the bank did eventually get its charter, Currency Comptroller James J. Saxon, upon investigation, found no hint of influence-peddling; competitors didn't even fight Redwood's charter application, and Mr. Bromley did nothing, so far as Mr. Saxon could discover, to earn the $5,000. Some investigators suspect, but Mr. Bromley has denied, that Mr. Baker got something for this transaction."

Out of this Landauer drew the moral that in searching for a Washington representative no businessman should "fall for vague promises, reinforced by casual mention of weighty names . . . The cost in money and embarrassment may be substantial and the benefits slight."

Stiff Ad Code For Cigarettes

NEW YORK (UPI)—The cigarette industry yesterday unveiled a stiff new self-policing advertising code designed to forbid all advertising that might tend to encourage young people to smoke.

Former New Jersey Gov. Robert B. Meyner will administer the code governing hundreds of millions of dollars worth of advertising in newspapers, magazines, television and radio and on billboards and signs. Meyner will have the power to fine tobacco companies up to $100,000 for violations.

Some of the actual provisions of the code were stringent. Testimonial advertising by athletes and other celebrities or their depiction in cigarette advertising, whether printed or on television, is forbidden if, in the opinion of Meyner and his staff, their use would have a special appeal.

The use of models or imaginary persons in photos, drawings or as live talent who are under 25 years old or appear to be under 25 is forbidden.

The first rule of the code says on cigarette advertising may be designed to appeal to persons under 21. No ads at all may be used in publications or on television or radio programs designed to appeal to minors. No radio or TV cigarette spot ads may be used in program breaks immediately before or after programs designed for minors.

Cigarette ads in comic books or on the comic pages of newspapers are forbidden. Ads in school and college publications are outlawed. So is distribution of cigarette samples on college campuses or in fraternity or sorority houses.

The code says "cigarette advertising shall not represent that cigarette smoking is essential to social prominence, distinction, success or sexual attraction."

It states no cigarette advertisings shall use models, actors or imaginary persons in such a way as to suggest that "their attractive appearance or good health is due to smoking."

Ads are forbidden showing any person smoking during participation in or obviously having just participated in physical activity requiring stamina or athletic conditioning beyond normal recreation.

Meyner told a news conference that cigarette companies could sponsor baseball games or other athletic contests on television so long as the commercials complied with the stiff provisions of the code regarding smoking and athletics.

Although the Meyner group has been working on the code only since September, he said it will go into effect Jan. 1.

$60,000 Suit Filed In Personal Injury

Beulah A. Rusnight, San Francisco, yesterday filed a $60,000 personal injury damage suit in Marin Superior Court against Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford) and her Valhalla Inn in Sausalito.

The plaintiff alleges negligent maintenance of the inn's parking lot, 201 Bridgeway, caused her to trip over a "pipelike" object and fall, injuring her knees, hands, right foot and back last March 29.

Poison Peanut Butter Is Off Most Shelves

State health officials today notified county health officer Carolyn Albrecht that they believe they have picked up virtually all of a recent contaminated shipment of Philippines-origin peanut butter that is not in transit.

Dr. Albrecht issued warning, however, that if any Marin County stores find that they have "Lady's Choice" butter made in Makati, Philippine Islands, they should take it off their shelves. Indications are that it might be stocked only by a few individually-owned shops, she said.

The contaminated shipment was all in one pound two-ounce size. Other sizes of the same brand have been given federal clearance as not contaminated by the mould growth called aflatoxin, described as dangerous to animals but not known to be harmful in normal quantities to human beings.

Housewives discovering that they have such material should return it to the store or take it to the sanitary division of the county health office but not throw away unopened bottles since these might be found by children, said Dr. Albrecht.

The first real circus performance to be given in the United States took place in 1793 at Philadelphia.

Bus Facilities On Hub Agenda

Greyhound bus facilities and downtown signs will be considered by the San Anselmo Planning Commission at its 8 p.m. meeting in the city hall next Monday when implementation of Parking Lot "A" is discussed.

The commission is also to consider an excavation ordinance and slope policy, revisions of zoning and subdivision ordinances, review major subdivisions and planned developments, architectural control and rezoning of the San Anselmo downtown area.

An adjustment for John Ribeiro, seeking a variance for ramp and carport, will come up for renewed discussion while new business will include a public hearing on rezoning Allan Larkins' property at 44 Magnolia Avenue from single family residence district to neighborhood apartment district.

Defects To Reds

DESIGN FOR TWO STORES

This rendering by architect Donald Keith Olsen is for the proposed Stan's Equipment for Sports store to be built on Reed Boulevard, across from the Town and Country Shopping Center in Strawberry and opened next fall. It will also serve as a design for a northern Marin store at South Novato Boulevard and Diablo Avenue if rezoning at this site is approved. Both shops will have a continuous arcade with large display windows and feature indoor pools for skin diving lessons.

Bugna Auto Dealership Purchased By Partner

The firm of E. Bugna, Inc., San Rafael Lincoln-Mercury automobile dealership, has been sold, it was announced today.

Hercules (Herk) Viglienzone, who has been an equal stockholder in the business with Emile Bugna and general manager, said he has purchased all of Bugna's interest and has changed the name of the company to Marin Bay Lincoln-Mercury Sales, Inc.

Bugna acquired the dealership, formerly known as Towne-Martin Lincoln-Mercury in February, 1958. Viglienzone joined the firm during the latter part of 1958 and later purchased a small block of stock. By 1961 he had acquired a half-interest in the business.

Several changes in the operation are contemplated, the new owner said. He has reappointed to sales manager Donald Mallnick who held the same post in 1961.

Viglienzone, a resident of Marin since he joined the firm, lives with his wife Marion at 290 Margarita Drive, San Rafael.

CHICAGO HEIGHTS, Ill. (UPI) —More than 100 million springs, ranging from thumbnail size to some weighing over half a ton, have been manufactured by Alco Products, Inc. since the company produced its first spring here in 1914.

Stock Market Closes High Second Day

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today for the second day in a row. Trading was active near the close.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.7 million shares, compared with 4.63 million yesterday.

Transactions in COMSAT were halted twice because of an accumulation of orders. The New York Stock Exchange put COMSAT on a cash basis Tuesday. When trading resumed after the second halt, COMSAT was off 6⅛s. The loss depened later.

The two-day rally apparently was based on favorable business news. Heads of several major companies predicted continued growth in 1965 and automobile and steel production kept moving at a record pace.

Holt, Rhinehart, which opened on a block of 125,000 shares, seemed likely to be the day's most active stock. It was off about half a point.

Brunswick also was very active and up around half a point.

Steels were in the forefront of the rally. Jones and Laughlin advanced about a point and a half and U.S. Steel was up nearly a point.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler advanced about half a point.

Xerox spurted more than five points.

Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and Treasury bonds were mixed.

Hardin's Career At Navy Parallels Erdelatz' Reign

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — The end of Wayne Hardin's football coaching career at Navy, expected to be formally announced today, had a striking parallel with that of his predecessor, Eddie Erdelatz.

(Erdelatz, now a San Rafael resident, is a vice president at Marin Title Guaranty Co. in San Rafael. He is also a vice president of California Financial Corp., holding company for Marin Title Guaranty.

(Reached at his San Rafael office today, Erdelatz said "no comment" concerning the Associated Press story comparing his career at Navy with Hardin's. "All I could do if I said anything would be to hurt either Hardin or the Naval Academy. I do not want to do that.")

Both had long tenure as civilian coaches in a military system — Erdelatz nine years and Hardin 10, including four years as an assistant — before their contracts were abruptly terminated.

Both actions occasioned great public surprise, since they had been highly successful Navy coaches, and they seemed to culminate primarily from personal conflicts behind Academy walls rather than coaching records.

Erdelatz had completed spring practice heading into his 10th season, and Hardin only 10 months ago had signed a five-year contract with the full expectation of staying at Navy in a civilian administrative job after he was through coaching.

It may be only coincidental, but it still is parallel, that both had looked at coaching jobs elsewhere two years before the ax fell at Navy — Erdelatz at Texas A&M and Hardin at Stanford. But both had returned to the Academy with no apparent hard feelings.

Both also had been masters at beating arch-rival Army, which helped assure their jobs, but both lost the crucial game in the year of their firing.

Both were long-time residents of California and brought in their eventual successors from junior colleges in that state. Erdelatz added Hardin from Porterville. Doug Scovil, who joined Hardin's staff in 1963 from San Mateo Junior College, reportedly has been tapped as Navy's next head coach.

Erdelatz reached an agreement with the Academy on his contract and resigned, citing personal reasons. Hardin didn't, at least right away. And this has been the striking difference in the windup of their careers at Navy.

Hardin, who had at least two years more remaining on his contract than Erdelatz, consulted a lawyer about terms he considered unfair. That turned what might have been a quick execution into a prolonged affair.

49er Official Says Club Has No Plans To Trade Off John Brodie

Jack Hanley

Lou Spadia isn't a difficult fellow to interview. In fact, he is quite pleasant in a question-and-answer session. So it is somewhat puzzling why our tip o' the peninsula contemporaries didn't pick up a telephone and ask Spadia a few simple questions before they began writing speculative stories about John Brodie's future in pro football.

"Are you going to trade Brodie?" we asked Spadia as the 49ers were flying home Sunday night from Detroit following their final game of the 1964 season.

"WE HAVE NO intention of doing that," said the general manager of the football club.

"Would you say that he is not expendable as a quarterback?"

"I don't think that can be said of any athlete," said Spadia, "but insofar as John is concerned we haven't talked with any club about a trade and no club has contacted us."

IT WAS a brief but informative interview during which there was no hemming or hawing on Spadia's part. Somehow it reminded us of a similar interview with Horace Stoneham when tip o' the peninsula pundits traded Orlando Cepeda for the umpteenth time last winter.

"How does such stuff get started?" asked Stoneham when we queried him. "Orlando is not available. I doubt there is a club that could offer us enough for a player of Orlando's caliber, even if we entertained such an idea."

IT ISN'T difficult to guess how such speculative stuff gets started. The long winter months between football and baseball present a problem for some tip o' the peninsula oracles.

Because Stoneham spiked their annual paper trading of Cepeda last winter once and for all, they turned to a new pigeon this year—Brodie.

FOLLOWING HIS unequivocal statement last year that Cepeda "is not available," Stoneham personally signed the Giant first baseman to a 1964 contract while on a winter vacation in the Caribbean. And he gave Cepeda a raise from $47,000 to $53,000.

Victoria Maple Leafs Slip Past Seals, 6-5

The lowly Victoria Maple Leafs, settled in the basement of the Western Hockey League, pulled off an upset victory last night and broke the San Francisco Seals' winning streak at three games.

In the only WHL action on Wednesday, the Leafs took a 6-5 win on a goal by Larry Keenan —his third of the evening—with four minutes remaining in the final period.

The win boosted the Maple Leafs to within two points of the fifth-place Seals. The match had no effect on league standings and Seattle maintained its five-point lead over second place Portland.

No games were scheduled in WHL competition today.

The Seals and Maple Leafs meet again Saturday night at the Cow Palace in San Francisco.

A 20-foot slap shot by Wayne Connelly gave the Seals a 1-0 lead in the first period. Victoria's Steve Witiuk tied the match in the second period, but the Seals' Al Nicholson and Burns pulled the defending WHL champions ahead to 3-1.

Gordon Redahl and Keenan scored in the second period to tie the contest at 3-3 in two periods.

Rookie Rollie Wilcox and Keenan scored in the final frame to give the Leafs a 5-3 lead, but Burns notched a pair to tie the match again.

Keenan's fast score in the final minutes gave the underdog Leafs an edge they held for the last four minutes.

Five Prep Cage Games Tomorrow

Five non-league games are scheduled tomorrow among the Marin Athletic League basketball teams, with Tamalpais having the only home engagement.

In a time change, Tamalpais hosts Montgomery High of Santa Rosa tomorrow at 4 p.m. in Mill Valley. The game earlier had been slated for 7 p.m., but has been switched to a daytime affair.

Other games on tap tomorrow: San Rafael at Petaluma, Terra Linda at Analy in Sebastapol, Marin Catholic at Riordan in San Francisco, and Drake at Wilson, also in San Francisco. All four of those road games are slated to start at 7 p.m.

One Free Throw Beats Warriors

BOSTON (UPI)—The San Francisco Warriors turned in three solid performances in three nights on their road trip, but free throws cost them two decisions.

They lost a 107-106 heartbreaker at mighty Boston last night in a game where both teams hit 41 baskets from the floor. San Francisco had 24 of 38 free throws while Boston had 25 of 34 from the charity stripe. And it was eight Celt free throws in the final three minutes that gave the Celts their seventh straight win.

San Francisco trailed Boston by nine at the end of three quarters but gamely closed to 98-97 with three minutes to go before a rash of fouls gave the decision to Boston.

Wilt Chamberlain rang in 31 points and grabbed 24 rebounds, but hit only five of 10 free throws. Gary Phillips and Guy Rodgers had 15 and 13 respectively. Sam Jones led Boston with 32 and John Havlicek added 22.

On Monday night, Philadelphia beat the Warriors, 119-112, while making 39 of 43 foul shots while the Warriors hit 20 of 29. Chamberlain went six for 15 from the charity stripe in that one. The Warriors took New York in overtime Tuesday night but again had trouble meshing free throws.

Despite the 1-for-3 record on the road and 10-22 season mark, the Warriors appear to be tougher now that all 11 performers are reasonably healthy at the same time.

The Warriors will host Philadelphia tomorrow and Sunday and New York on Tuesday in contests which might indicate if there is any hope of the Warriors heading upwards in the standings.

West Cage Teams In Key Wins

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Seattle and Colorado State University came from out of the west and shattered the all-winning slates of two eastern teams in college basketball last night.

Seattle edged LaSalle 76-74 in the feature of a doubleheader at the Palestra in Philadelphia. CSU defeated Cornell 67-65 at Ithaca, N.Y. LaSalle had won four straight, Cornell three.

Duke, Penn State and Baylor also came through with road victories in other feature games on a comparatively slim national program.

The sixth-ranked Duke Blue Devils, the only team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, nipped Clemson 80-79. Penn State downed Temple 73-63 in the opener of the Philadelphia twin bill while unbeaten Baylor made it five in a row by taking North Texas 86-81.

Duke came from 11 points back to beat Clemson behind 10 straight points by Steve Vacendak. His goal with 1:34 left put the Blue Devils ahead for good.

Ray Saunders led Penn State with 22 points as the Nittany Lions won their fourth straight on the road. Six straight free throws, coupled with the foul out of 6-foot-8 Willie Davis for North Texas, accounted for Baylor's triumph.

Houston handed Auburn its first defeat 50-48 in the Bluebonnet doubleheader at Houston while Dan Connaughton's two free throws in the last four seconds gave Chicago Loyola a home court 84-83 victory over North Dakota State.

Brown, led by Al Milanesi's 23 points, scored a 68-54 home court triumph over Yale in the first Ivy League game of the season. Louisville handed touring Syracuse its fifth straight defeat 67-62.

In other games Oklahoma downed Texas Tech 85-79, Colorado beat Wyoming 68-63 and Texas A&M defeated Rice 69-60 in the other half of the Bluebonnet twin bill.

Skiing 'Good To Excellent' Is Report From Resorts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Fresh snow flurries have added a powder cover and the majority of ski sites in the Sierra will operate on a daily basis through New Year's.

"It's a fantastic year for skiing," said Lee Klein, executive director of the Far West Ski Association.

The holiday period will find a variety of competitive events.

Lodge, hotel and motel owners at ski resorts have reported their facilities "booked solid" for the holiday season, and in some cases have been for three months.

Klein, who heads the association covering California, Nevada and Hawaii, said he expects last year's membership total of 15,000 to be topped by 5,000.

The association has scheduled 60 races in Northern California from now to March. These will be climaxed by international competitions in Vail, Colo., the Harriman Cup at Sun Valley, and the National Alpine Championships at Crystal Mountain, Wash., near Seattle.

The association plans to sponsor 10 jetloads of skiers to Munich, Germany, for three to six weeks of reaction on continental slopes.

Conditions at the major resorts range from good to excellent. Squaw Valley reports all facilities operating with 10 inches of snow on the floor and 40 inches at the top. Tahoe Ski Bowl has six inches of new snow with all facilities operating. Sugar Bowl will begin operating on a daily basis Friday.

Donner Ridge, Heavenly Valley, Badger Pass in Yosemite and the facilities at Lassen are open for the holidays. Lassen will be closed on Christmas day.

Buffalo Places 6 On AFL All-Star Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite serving time on the waiver list, Buffalo fullback Cookie Gilchrist was the only unanimous choice on the American Football League All-Star team named by The Associated Press.

Gilchrist, one of six Bills on the team picked by a 24-man panel in the eight league cities, was the only player on either the offensive or defensive units to get all the votes and regained the fullback spot he lost to Oakland's Clem Daniels last season.

Involved in a mid-season hassle with Coach Lou Saban that resulted in his being placed on the waiver list, Gilchrist proceeded to make amends, rejoined the team and put himself into position to become the first player in the league's history to become a two-time 1,000 yard ground gainer.

In all, Boston placed five men on the team as did San Diego's Western Division champions.

Besides Gilchrist, the Bills placed tackle Stew Barber and guard Billy Shaw on the offensive unit and tackle Tom Sestak, linebacker Mike Stratton and safety George Saimes on the defensive team.

Boston's contingent includes quarterback Babe Parilli and guard Billy Neighbors along with the three defenders — end Larry Eisenhauer, middle linebacker Nick Buoniconti and safety Ron Hall.

San Diego's five includes flanker Lance Alworth, Keith Lincoln at the running back spot, offensive tackle Ron Mix, defensive end Earl Faison and Ernie Ladd, the 6-foot-9, 321-pound defensive tackle.

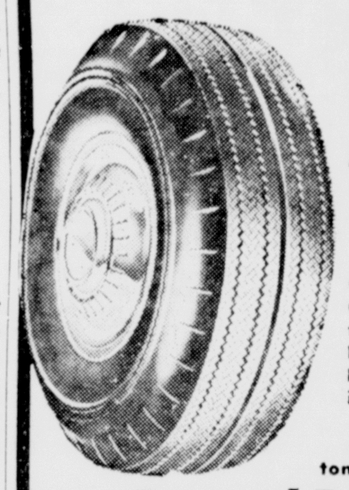

Kansas City placed two men on the team and New York, Houston, Oakland and Denver one each.

Fred Arbanas at tight end and cornerback Dave Grayson were the Chiefs' representatives. Corner linebacker Larry Grantham made it for the Jets, receiver Charley Hennigan for the Oilers, center Jim Otto for the Raiders and cornerback Willie Brown for the Broncos.

Otto has been an All-Star for the five years the league has been in existence.

It's Official: Willie Mays Top Slugger

CINCINNATI (AP) — Willie Mays, San Francisco's hard-hitting outfielder, captured the National League slugging championship for the fourth time last season, the official averages disclosed today.

Mays finished with a .607 mark on 351 total bases in 588 times at bat. The Giants' star also won the title in 1954, 1955 and 1957.

Mays collected 21 doubles, nine triples and a league-leading 47 homers among 179 hits in 1964. He also extended two NL records, highest career slugging average, .589, and most consecutive years, 300 or more total bases, 11.

Ron Santo of the Chicago Cubs was second in slugging average with .564. He was followed by Richie Allen of Philadelphia .557, Rico Carty of Milwaukee .55, Frank Robinson, Cincinnati .548, Orlando Cepeda, San Francisco .539, Billy Williams, Chicago .532 and Hank Aaron, Milwaukee .51.

Allen, the Phils' rookie third baseman, compiled the most total bases, 352, one more than Mays. Allen also struck out 138 times, eclipsing the league record of 136 set by Pancho Herrera of Philadelphia in 1960 and equalled by Pittsburgh's Donn Clendennon in 1963.

Santo received the most bases on balls, 86, while Cincinnati's Robinson collected the most intentional walks, 20.

Philadelphia's Tony Taylor was hit by pitches 13 times to lead in that department. Joe Torre of Milwaukee grounded into the most double plays, 26, and Willie Davis of the Los Angeles Dodgers grounded into the fewest, 4.

Milwaukee finished with the highest team slugging mark, .418. Then came St. Louis, .392, Philadelphia .391 and Chicago .390.

Slugging averages are computed by dividing the total bases accumulated on all hits by the number of official times at bat.

AT COUNTRY CLUB BOWL

Poulopoulos Rolls 673 Set

Bill Poulopoulos sizzled the pins at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael for a 673 series topped by a 268 game to feature the past week's league action.

Bill also had a 226 game in that big series, rolled in the 900 Classic League. Mac Koch of the 850 Scratch League had a fine 643 series that included games of 240 and 222. Larry Risinger tossed a 251 game in the Nite Owls League.

Shirl Campanella headlined the kegling for the distaff side of the ledger, rolling a 597 series topped by a 234 line. Her score, in the Toppers Mixed Fours, was high in both series and individual game categories.

Other big scores for the women were tossed by Vivian Gray, 213—558 in the Sleepers League; Joanne Johnson, 224 in the Morning Glories, and Jean Faubel, 222 in the Bowling Belles.

4 Marin Anglers Catch Winners

Four Marin County fishermen were among the 34 winners in the first week of the Schenley Sportsmen's Club striped bass program for the period ending last Sunday.

George Matthews of Novato caught a 27-pound, 8-ounce beauty in Tomales Bay; William Robinson of Woodacre caught a 25-2 striper near The Brothers; Kurt Kalemba of Woodacre pulled out a 25-pounder in Tomales Bay, and Ray Detmayer of San Quentin Village caught a striper weighing 24-5 near the Richmond Bridge.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Fly Fishing Is A Sporty Way To Catch Some Nice Striped Bass

As requested, I am setting down the specifics of fly fishing for striped bass out of the Golden Hinde boatery at Inverness. It would be difficult to imagine a more sporting way of catching a 15 or 20-pound striper while trolling a highly colored streamer fly such as a combination pattern of red and white, all white, or green and white streamer fly, on a 4/0 or smaller hook, in fairly shallow water.

STEVENS

DAVIS CAMPBELL of the Golden Hinde, reported that quite a few of his "regulars" do their fishing for bass with nothing else than the artificial fly in size and pattern above. I understand at least one dealer specializes in various streamer flies for bass fishing (I mean striped bass, not blackies). The dealer? Butler's Fly and Tackle store in Santa Rosa, but chances are very good of getting such streamer flies from local dealers.

Davis Campbell told me the larger bass that come in are taken on bait.

THE ANNUAL bass derby staged by the Golden Hinde resort and harbor is now in progress. So far the top fish is the 28-pounder caught by George Matthews, the same gentleman who won last year's derby with a 35-pounder. Chances are that a mere 28-pounder will not win the cash prize for this season.

Top fish must be weighed in and registered in the contest which ends on Jan. 30. There will be, I believe, just the one cash prize (anywhere from $50 to $100), but a whole flock of other prizes will be given out.

Anyone interested in the Golden Hinde bass derby, but not owning a skiff and outboard motor, can rent a boat from Davis Campbell but a reservation should be made well in advance of the day you wish to fish; there are only 10 skiffs at the Golden Hinde.

BAD WEATHER and rough water kept most at home the past weekend, but I believe it was on Monday that Walter Matthews and a friend took limits to 15 pounds. Best bet at present seems to be on the outgoing tide. I am not certain what system of boat reservations Campbell follows so I suggest you contact him.

Striper striving prospects for the balance of the week are fair to good. The low tides may hamper the take in the upper San Pablo Bay, but should increase the yield in the San Francisco Bay spots. Fishing with live herrings was good to the rod-men aboard the party boat Ino, on Monday. Limits from 10 to 20 pounds were netted. Congratulations to Angler Ferrell who took his limits to 20 pounds, 8 ounces, on a morning trip out of Rodeo.

BULLHEADS SEEM to be still the most popular bait for large bass, but one boat out of China Camp took a limit by 8:30 a.m. on sardines. (Only three boats out of China Camp but all limited out.) Most of the action was had in the more shallow water. No good at the San Pablo Buoy.

So, if you don't dig for giant clams at Dillon's Beach, or pick the luscious abalone, bass, sturgeon and rock fish are biting. Goodbye, good luck and go get 'em!

Murakami Says He'll Stay In S.F.

TOKYO (UPI)—Masanori Murakami, the 20-year-old southpaw relief pitcher, plans to play for the San Francisco Giants again next year.

But officials of the Nankai Hawks said yesterday Muramaki had been sent to the U.S. as a "baseball student" for one year and that as a property of the Hawks he will remain in Japan and play with the Hawks during the 1965 season.

Murakami became the first Japanese national to perform in the majors late last season when the Giants called him up from Fresno. Murakami returned to Japan last night.

He said "I want to play another year with the Giants." He added that he had returned to Japan to pay his respects to the Hawks' management and to undergo a tonsillectomy at his home town of Otsuki.

Giant scout Cappy Harada, who accompanied Murakami, said that the pitcher had signed a 1965 contract with the Giants on Sept. 30 and was their property.

This is the time for winter vacations and holiday trips. May we urge you to "Drive for a Safe Holiday."

Driving can be enjoyable for you and all the family! However, a split second of inattention at the wheel, or neglect of the safe driving condition of the family car may contribute to unnecessary accidents and delays.

Larkspur Boat Designer Came Up With Quite A Craft For Sailing

The Pelican Class boat "Chloe" was designed and built by William H. Short of Larkspur. During construction he kept firmly in mind the challenge of San Francisco Bay's strong winds and its choppy water.

At the same time he was aiming at a design handy to handle—and fast. It's a little craft capable of crossing the bay's main ship channel west of Alcatraz, from Marin to San Francisco in most weather.

On the face of it, none of this seemed to be asking the impossible of a well-built sailboat. Not, of course, UNTIL the size was made known—a stalwart 12-foot centerboarder.

ALL THIS was some time back. Since Chloe's first tests, many Pelicans have crossed this breezy bay. In fact, these testing waters have now become the scene of the Pelican Association's main event of the year: Trans-Bay Pelican Race for the George A. W. Ingram Perpetual Trophy. This is held every summer. The course, from Sausalito to San Francisco's Marina Green and back, is eight and one-quarter miles of reaching and beating.

"Originally," explained Short, "Chloe was built for my family of four to learn to sail the bay. We hoped she'd also be a fast and pleasant boat for an experienced sailor to enjoy. Gradually, other sailors in the bay area noticed how well she stood up to the winds, and liked her wholesome qualities. This started the first Pelican fleet."

He has written articles on the Pelican that have appeared in Yachting, Popular Boating and other national publications. The December issue of Rudder magazine carries an article by him on centerboard boats.

THE LITTLE craft is developed from the famous Banks fishing dory, but pram bowed and given more sheer, freeboard and beam. If she were elongated to her conventional dory extreme she would be about 19-feet long. Having a highly peaked lug rig as well as a large plywood centerboard make her very good to windward. The combination of resilient lug rig and the great flare and freeboard of her beamy topsides make her an outstanding safe centerboarder.

"In a hard, or accidental jibe, the lug rig will absorb much of the shock with surprising elasticity," said Short. "The halyard suspending the gaff and boom absorbs some of the shock. It also lets these two spars swing and dip a little instead of slamming across on a hard pivot—as is the case with gaff jaws and boom jaws in a conventional rig."

In brisk winds Chloe's mainsail is all the sail area needed. She'll plane and surf serenely under favorable conditions, even when larger boats are starting to seek shelter. Then she's a buoyant thing to behold—and better yet to be in! With a tested and approved 33-square foot genoa jib, (auxiliary sail), she may be sailed either as a cat or a sloop rig.

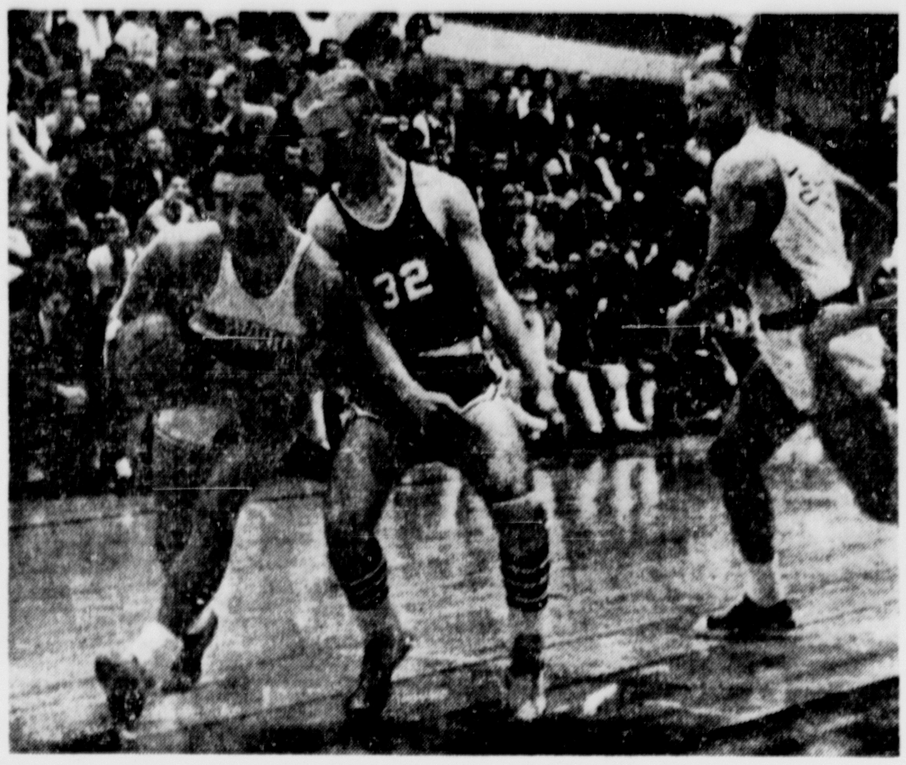

THE REGULAR cat lug is not changed, nor is the mast shifted. The over-lapping jib is set on a running bowsprit. Flat and plank-type, it is carefully designed so it can be quickly shipped or unshipped. Big and long, the centerboard can swing forward enough in the vertical position to balance the helm nicely, when sailing with the jib. "On a reach," Short continued, "the board need only be partly lowered. The genoa jib sure adds a lot of sport to Pelican sailing, yet this large overlapping jib can be 'doused' in a hurry in a squall."

He explained further that this sail is set "flying" (has its own sewed-in non-stretch stay or "luff rope"). So when its halyard and "tack pennants" are slacked off—from the cockpit—it can be easily led into the cockpit, even by the single-handed sailor. It can be hauled out and set again by the reverse of the same simple process when the squall passes or weather moderates.

COMMERCIALLY built Pelicans are available, either in finished or kit form. Also fiberglass Pelicans are now available. Plywood models are especially easy for amateurs to build. Hull and spars can be finished very economically by home builders. A sail number may be obtained from the class secretary when the time comes to order sails.

A National Pelican Racing and Cruising Assn. is now forming. Inquiries about the organization should be addressed to Dr. J. R. Binnings, 840 Penny Royal Lane, Terra Linda.

Joe Louis Jr. Won't Follow In Famous Dad's Footsteps

BOSTON (AP) — It's his size that hits you first when you meet him. But by the time you depart, you are so impressed with the personable, young man named Joe Louis Barrow Jr. you've already forgotten the dimensions.

Young Barrow, or Louis as many insist upon calling him, is 17 now and a freshman at Boston University. He stands only 5-foot-7 and weighs 130 pounds — a sharp contrast to his famous father, the former heavyweight boxing champion of the world.

The size, he admits, is one reason why he's never thought of being a boxer himself. "I'm just too small. I'd probably be a bantamweight, if I did."

Actually, the 130 pounds would qualify young Joe as a lightweight but it wouldn't make much difference to the slim youth.

Joe Jr. is a serious lad. He knows what he wants for the future and he doesn't kid himself that he'd get there through boxing.

Joe has his eye on a business career and plans to major in merchandising during his undergraduate years. He also has his mind geared for graduate work at a business school.

Though boxing is out, young Joe enjoys athletics. "I did some diving in high school but BU doesn't have a swimming team. And I like golf," he said. "I'm not too proficient now, but maybe some day. . . "

One thing he likes about New England is the readily available ski slopes. He recalled the five-hour trips from Chicago to northern Michigan to ski while in high school and noted that isn't necessary from Boston.

He's looking forward to introducing a college chum, Mark Epstein of Miami Beach, to skiing. Epstein never had seen snow before Boston's first storm of the season a week ago.

Of course a lifetime associated with boxing has created a strong interest in the ring for Joe, who never saw his father fight.

He was sorry last month's title bout between Cassius Clay and Sonny Liston was postponed. He enjoys watching Clay fight but, more important, he missed a chance for a brief reunion with his father.

Joe Sr. is a fight promoter now on the West Coast.

Joe Jr. lives in Chicago with his mother, now Mrs. Marva Spaulding. It was in Chicago that Joe grew up "in a private school area where I was protected."

The protection he speaks of concerns a shield from discrimination "something all Negroes face" whether or not they have a famous name.

"I've never been very enthusiastic about civil rights demonstrations," he admits, though confessing he has given the problem a lot of thought. "Noisy demonstrations seem to hurt the cause more than they help at this point. I think most of them are wasted now that we have the Civil Rights Bill.'

"The Negroes should wait now," he advised, "wait and see what develops."

Joe certainly doesn't find discriminationn at BU, where a large number of Negroes are enrolled, nor from his classmates, among whom he is obviously quite popular.

Epstein described Joe as a serious fellow who does well in his grades "but not an intellectual."

He said, "the one thing you have to say about Joe is 'he's dependable.'"

"You never hesitate to do something for him," he explained, "for you know he'll return the favor. Joe's always there when you need him.

"I don't know many guys I could say that about."

Lakers Bid $500,000 For Wilt Chamberlain

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Lakers have bid $500,000 for San Francisco Warrior ace Wilt Chamberlain, the Los Angeles Times reported last night.

The Times said it further learned that the Lakers also offered Cotton Nash and Dick Barnett for the 7-1 super star, and hopes that the bid will be enough to land him.

Laker coach Fred Schaus told newsmen earlier that he was looking for another shooter for his club but that so far he had not been able to make a deal.

On the other hand, the half-million dollar figure isn't as impossible for the Lakers to pay as it looks. Already in escrow is $200,000 to be used solely for the purpose of purchasing talent. And Laker president Bob Short has vowed that he will get a world championship team.

Chicago Bears Sign Tackle

CHICAGO (AP) — Defensive tackle Dennis Murphy has been signed by the Chicago Bears, the club announced yesterday.

Murphy, a 250-pounder from Florida University, was the Bears' No. 10 choice in the National Football League draft. He also was drafted by the Houston Oilers of the American Football League.

State Deer Hunters Had Best Season Since 1961

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California deer hunters enjoyed their best buck season since 1961 this fall, according to the State Fish and Game Department.

Hunters killed 71,888 deer, including 66,584 bucks and 5,304 antlerless animals.

The buck kill was way up over last season's 56,814 and a slight increase over the five-year average of 65,981. The overall kill also was up substantially over last eason's 60,450.

"It bore out our pre-season predictions of a good year," Wallace MacGregor of the State Fish and Game Department reported yesterday.

"Most of the state, except for the San Francisco Bay Area, was the same or above last year. The whole Sierra and northern mountain counties were up, and so were the coastal counties from Monterey through Ventura."

MacGregor said all-time record kills were set in Del Norte, Trinity, Plumas, Placer and Solano Counties.

The most successful county was Humboldt, where 4,947 deer were taken. Next came Siskiyou with 4,825 and Mendocino with 4,681.

However, MacGregor said hunters may be in for a disappointment next season.

"It's pretty early to tell for next year, but I don't think it's going to be as good," he said. "Early indications point to a decrease in fawn production and survival from 1964. It was real good in 1963."

MacGregor, a biologist, said poor range conditions during the growing season had contributed to a shortage of deer food.

During the 1964 season, 45,144 deer were shot during the inland, or late, shoot and 21,440 during the coastal, or early. This compared to 36,445 and 20,349 respectively of last year.

"This jibed with our prediction that the early season would be about the same as last year and the late season would show a big increaase," he said.

The biggest kill of antlerless deer was in Mono County, where 1,536 fell.

Archers also killed 346 deer statewide.

The regular deer season ended Nov. 8, but the department didn't quit counting deer tags returned by hunters until yesterday. MacGregor noted there still was one small special hunt left in Tulare County.

Designing Lady Bird's Inaugural Gown

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—John Moore, a modest Texan who is designing the inaugural ball gown for the first lady of the United States, knows about design of grand occasion dresses.

He created them for a first lady of the screen—the late Marilyn Monroe.

Moore is at work on details of the historic ball gown which Mrs. Johnson will wear during inaugural ceremonies in Washington next January. Details are secret—except for Moore's comment that Mrs. Johnson's tastes run to simple lines and to the colors of American beauty red, white or yellow.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON has announced he will wear a business suit for inaugural ceremonies but Moore doesn't see how that fact can affect Mrs. Johnson's wearing other than a long gown for the inaugural balls—"I can't imagine a short one going into the Smithsonian," he said.

For the inaugural gown Mrs. Johnson wears is destined, like those of other first ladies, for permanent display in the Smithsonian Institution.

Moore, 36, a native of Alice, Tex., near Corpus Christi, sits back in his white and brown showroom on New York's Seventh Avenue, the garment center's main throughfare, and confesses that, "I've never designed for Mrs. Johnson before.

"And I've only submitted sketches and fabrics and consulted with her once. She may decide on some other designer—at the last minute. But I do know I'm flattered she's considering me."

Moore may not say positively that the inaugural dress is sewn up by him, but reports throughout the fashion industry say it's his assignment.

THE DESIGNER SEES his new number one client this way:

"Mrs. Johnson's not out to be a fashion plate as such. Dressing for dressing's sake doesn't interest her that much. She's too busy with other things."

But Moore finds the First Lady a woman who likes clothes "terribly simple, because she's a small woman. A size 10. She has this wonderfully clear skin so she can wear colors easily. She likes red, rich, American beauty red, white and yellow."

Inevitably, he said, he knew people would comment that the designer who once did Marilyn Monroe's public appearance dresses now was doing an inaugural ball gown.

"I think, don't you, that it shows my versatility," said Moore quietly.

The designer is a slightly built man with a bit of his Texas accent and all of a southern gentleman's graciousness remaining, though he has been in New York since 1948.

He worked on collections for Elizabeth Arden, Jane Derby, and Matty Talmack, before setting up his own wholesale business in 1963. His ready-to-wear designs are known for their soft, dressmaker touches.

AS FOR MRS. JOHNSON'S gown, he said it will be up to the First Lady to disclose the details or " Maybe she will just keep them secret until she appears." But he said she will buy it through Neiman-Marcus in Dallas rather than directly from his firm "because that's the way she wants to do things."

BEFORE THE INSTALLATION

ALL WRAPPED UP FOR CHRISTMAS . . . This young lady shows off collection of gift wrapped packages which are a long cry from the old days when plain white tissue paper and red string dominated the gifts that were exchanged. Today, fancy and sparkly foils and prints abound on expensive-looking gift wraps, ribbons, tags and thousands of other embellishments.

Survey Shows Old Fashioned High Fashion This Christmas

These findings come from a survey by the Papercraft Corporation, manufacturers of Christmas gift papers and ribbons.

OVER 3,500 PEOPLE, in towns large and small, were asked questions about their color preferences, their personal tastes in patterns, and their purchasing habits. Results were tabulated on a regional as well as national basis. Most startling was the similarity of tastes. Red, the most popular color, received 41 per cent of the total vote—with the same percentage coming from California as from New York. Green came a poor second with only 18 per cent. Sixty-two per cent preferred a patterned paper, to a solid, and added that they liked old fashioned Christmasy motifs best. Here, the regional tabulation gave everyone a surprise. The southern states, where little or no snow falls, actually, voiced a preference for winter scenes. The northern states ran more to geometric patterns. Pastels, so very popular a few years ago, received only 7 per cent of the vote this year.

The Papercraft Corp., which devotes 364 days to that one day a year, saw this trend coming over a year ago. Their clue was the state of Texas. For a reason no one has yet understood, the colors and pattern preferences that start to show popularity there in one year, become the preferences of a large part of the country the year following.

JUST A FEW years ago, such a survey wouldn't have been possible, since there were limited choices to make. Gift wrap was a piece of white tissue, tied with red string. Today, white accounts for only 5 per cent of the popular choice. It was during the depression years that the first gift paper first appeared. It was not that people had extra money to spend on fancy wrappings, but the need to make necessities look more like Christmas presents. Pennies were saved to buy children's shoes, not roller skates.

While the papers were not of good quality, the colors were bright, and people liked the added Christmas touch.

As the need for fancy trappings lessened, the custom remained. Suddenly, after the war, when paper was again available, stores were giving more space to a growing variety of papers designed especially for Christmas wrapping.

Florence Avenue Party Saturday

The ninth annual Florence Avenue Christmas party will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Saturday for residents of Florence Avenue and their house guests.

The party will take place in the cul-de-sac at the end of the street, with a refreshment table with cookies, coffee and milk in one of the neighboring garages.

Santa Claus, portrayed by William Redding, will give gifts and Christmas carols will be sung. William Kaddio is decorations chairman.

Dominican Dinner Set At Hamilton

Senior and junior classes at Dominican Upper School will hold their Christmas dinner dance on Saturday evening at Hamilton Air Force Base Officers' Club.

Yule logs will be burned and punch served in the Base silver trophy. Patrons and patronesses are Messrs. and Mesdames E. V. Cliff, Dewey Donnell, Gordon C. Jones, Richard E. Keith, Edwin H. Seltner and John W. Ward.

A LATE MAY WEDDING is planned by Marleen Patricia Todt and Edward Ravizza Jr., both of Mill Valley. (Planert photo)

Ravizza-Todt Wedding Set For Late May

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Deffebach have announced the engagement of her daughter, Marleen Patricia Todt, to Edward Ravizza Jr., at a cocktail party for relatives of both families on Sunday at their home on the Reed Ranch on the Tiburon Peninsula.

Marleen, the daughter of Richard Todt of San Rafael, was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and attended Dominican College. She received a special secondary teaching credential from San Francisco State College where she is now doing graduate work. She is a member of the Delta Sigma Rho, honorary speech society. Richard Todt Jr. is her only brother.

Edward is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ravizza of Strawberry Manor, Mill Valley. A graduate of Marin Catholic High School and the University of San Francisco, he received his commission from Naval Officers' Candidate School in Newport, R. I. He served aboard the Pacific Fleet destroyer, USS Hopewell as supply officer on its trips to the Far East and is a lieutenant in the U.S. Naval Reserve.

Edward was formerly associated with his father in the Eastman-Ravizza Agency in Sausalito until his appointment as right-away agent for the state of California. John Anthony and Thomas Joseph Ravizza are his brothers.

A nuptial mass in St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon is planned for late May.

Pointed Gifts Into Millions

NEW YORK (UPI)—The point of this story: gift pens for Christmas.

No one knows for sure how large is this holiday market, but John D. Sheaffer estimates that sales of writing instruments in November-December run well over $27 million each year.

High on the list of products in the gift area are gold and chrome-finish ballpoint pen and pencil sets, women's fountain pens with cases styled like lipstick holders, and personalized desk sets that can be equipped with clock, barometer, thermometer or other decorative devices.

A TREE GROWS IN SAUSALITO

Housewife Prefers Carpet To Mink—?

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American housewife would rather put down new carpeting for Christmas than put on a mink coat. She'd rather have a dryer than diamonds.

Well, that's what it says here, anyway, in a continuing study of feminine gift preferences done by a firm which makes decorative ribbons and papers. This is the fifth year of the Christmas gift preference study by the company, which queried 200 homemakers selected at randon from telephone directories in Chicago, Detroit, Atlanta and San Francisco.

Forty per cent of the women were under 35. Seventy-four per cent lived in families with incomes of under $10,000, the rest with incomes of $10,000 per year plus.

The researchers said that a cross-check of this year's answers with those of the four preceding years indicated that the margin of accuracy is close to 5 per cent.

FIVE YEARS ago, the researchers advised husbands to "Think Mink" when considering what to buy the wife for Christmas. Now, they've found the mooning for mink is on the wane.

The widening eye of feminine acquisition now is fixed on dining room sets, new living room furniture, carpets, linens and other items of household adornment. The kitchen, the researchers said, has replaced the yen for gems as refrigerators, dryers, dishwashers, toasters, mixers, and even hair dryers make a strong showing this year.

Here's how the percentages broke down: In 1960, 24 per cent of the women queried wanted furs and other items of clothing; this year, the percentage fell to 17 per cent. In 1960, 26 per cent of the women wanted furniture or appliances; this year, it jumped to 46 per cent.

THE RESEARCHERS found that spending on gifts has risen steadily in the five years. In 1959, the average spent by a family was $147. Last year, it was about $165. The forecast for 1964: up 3 per cent to about $170. The average family will purchase about 30 gifts, and in 40 per cent of the households, anywhere from six to 16 will go to the children.

Only 8 per cent of the women said they planned to cut the number of gifts to the children this year.

Some 54 per cent of the women interviewed said they received one large gift for Christmas last year and that 49 per cent of these gifts were appliances, furniture or household accessories.

THE RESEARCHERS reported that gifts of personal apparel are most wanted at two income extremes—among the poor and among the rich. The middle income class has a "vast yen for a nice home and all the conveniences that go with it. Mooning for mink can wait."

Spending on gift wrappings also is up—expected to be 25 per cent more this year than five years ago, with the 1964 average at $4.35 per family.

ONE OF the questions asked the women was: "If you could have anything in the world you wanted this Christmas, what would it be?" Thirty-four per cent of the women in families with incomes under $10,000 wanted a new home, while only 4 per cent of those in high income brackets wished for one.

Low Calorie Count

Calorie-counting guests — and their hostess as well—will go for a new "Sweet'n Slim" assortment of chocolate candy miniatures. Chosen for their lower calorie count, but not made with artificial sweeteners, the candies are said to run 15 to 20 per cent lower in calorie count than the average candy in the average box.

TRANSITIONAL! TRADITIONAL! MEDITERRANEAN! PROVINCIAL!

What a jumble of terms, conflicting descriptions and just plain gobbledegook the housewife must face when planning a new home and deciding just the furniture styles to use! The only thing I can think of off hand that causes more confusion is the plethora of new fibres used in carpets and the various trade names used for them by different manufacturers. But that is another story and will be taken up in a future column.

Now as to this matter of furniture periods and styles, there are a few terms that might be defined and some simple rules to take into account. For one, such designers as Chippendale Hepplewhite and Duncan Phyfe, our first prominent American designer, all are grouped into what we now call 18th Century design. The wood used is mostly mahogany and is of a formal nature. There are very few exact reproductions as the scale was too grand for today's homes and so adaptations have been made for our use. Even so, because of its formality it is little used now but can be judiciously intermixed with other traditional styles.

This very matter of scale determines your choice most often for we must keep in mind the size of our rooms, ceiling height and amount of light which will suggest whether the furniture should be light and airy, used in free-standing positions or as impressive dramatic pieces to dramatize a room.

This does not mean that modern houses require only modern furniture designs—of course all new houses are modern, but you should be able to mix several periods that are related so long as the entire room is in scale and the desired effect achieved. Use of different woods is also helpful when one is complimentry to the other just as various colors in fabrics are used.

Provincial styling, whether it be French, Italian or Spanish, is a generic term used by American manufacturers for furniture based on the more formal styles used in elaborate chateaus and palaces but scaled down and simplified for our use today.

By all means avoid the "matched group" look throughout your home but try to express your own individuality and that of the house itself. When you have doubts consult us—we specialize in rooms you would like to live in, always.

Academy Is Given Free Land Offer

The San Rafael Military Academy has had an offer of free land in Petaluma, A. C. Agnew, business administrator of the academy, told a luncheon meeting of the Novato Chamber of Commerce at Nero's Restaurant in Novato yesterday.

The Novato chamber invited trustees and officials of the academy to the luncheon in honor of the 75th anniversary of the academy and to show them prospective sites in the Novato area.

The academy can spend from $100,000 to $150,000 for a site and wants a minimum of 20 acres, Agnew told the chamber representatives. It could use up to 100 acres, he said.

This figure was arrived by taking 10 per cent of the estimated value of the San Rafael campus, which the academy will sell.

Dr. Sumner Walters, headmaster at the academy, said that the academy had been looking for a new site for the past three years. It hoped to move in one to five years, he said.

County supervisor William Gnoss, Novato, Mayor Robert D. Carrow and president of the chamber Richard Nave, each paid tribute to the academy on its 75th anniversary.

Walters said that the academy had existed at the same location for 75 years but wanted to expand, so it was looking for a larger site.

"We are planning for the next 75 years because we do not want to move again," he said.

The officials and representatives of the chamber then toured five prospective sites which have been offered to the academy by Novato real estate dealers.

The number of different local community governments in a major metropolitan area often exceeds several hundred.

Highway Metal Barrier Bids Due

The state has called for bids to build two and one half miles of metal safety barrier in the middle of Highway 101 from the south end of Corte Madera Creek Bridge in Larkspur to the north end of the San Rafael overpass.

This was announced this week by Abraham Kofman of San Leandro, a member of the California Highway Commission, in reply to an inquiry by Paul A. Anglade of 785 Knocknaboul Way, Terra Linda.

Bids will be opened Jan. 6 in Sacramento. The state has budgeted $149,000 for the project, Kofman said.

Basketball Clinics

San Rafael Recreation Department will hold its annual youth basketball clinics, conducted by high school coaches and players, from 9-11 a.m. Saturday at San Rafael and Terra Linda high school gymnasium. The clinics are open to elementary and junior high school boys.

Check Pensions, Veterans Urged

Veterans and widows of veterans were urged today by Marin County serive officer James V. Burdick to check up on their pension situations.

The issue has to do whether pensions are paid under the old U.S. pension law or the new law of 1960 as amended in 1964.

"Only those receiving pensions under the new law will receive increases and adjustments on income limitations provided by the last Congress," said Burdick. "Those receiving under the old law will be well advised to look into their situations and see if it might be to their advantage to change to the new law."

Burdick said his office is prepared to assist such evaluations. All information pertaining to income from all sources should be brought by those desiring help.

Brown To Seek Tougher Control On Pain Drug

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The administration will ask the legislature to tighten controls on the pain-killing drug Percodan, Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced yesterday.

Brown and Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch told of their plans after conferring with the vice president of the firm that makes the drug, Endo Laboratories, Inc.

The official, David L. Klein, said Endo, which successfully fought legislation in 1963, will not oppose the measure in 1965.

The administration will submit a measure requiring triplicate prescriptions for the drugs, with one copy going to the state.

Klein said the firm has sent a letter to California physicians telling of its decision not to fight the new controls.

Crusade Falls Short Of Goal But Improves Over Last Year

The 1964 United Crusade campaign in Marin County raised $121,354, about 100 persons were told at the annual dinner meeting of the Marin United Fund in San Rafael Tuesday.

Goal of the drive was $185,301.

San Rafael attorney S. J. Hugh Allen was installed as president of the group, taking the gavel from 1964 president Bert W. Broemmel.

In his final report on the campaign, Broemmel said that most divisions showed substantial improvement over last year "equal to or better than" other counties of the United Bay Area Crusade.

He cited an increase of 35.5 per cent by the education division, or 20.7 per cent by the public employees division and by the commerce and industry division of 16.6 per cent.

Broemmel also said the money raised locally was more than matched by contributions of local people in the San Francisco drive and through central divisions of the Bay Area crusade.

Total for the five-county campaign was $12,414,245, an increase of more than 1.3 million dollars from last year.

Also taking office last night was new secretary Roger P. Garety, who succeeded Esther Dearth. Vice-presidents George M. Henderson, Paul Kent and Carroll Walker, as well as treasurer Arthur C. Latno, have been re-elected to their posts.

Mrs. Thomas J. Mellon of Kentfield, a 10-year volunteer worker, was given an honorary life membership "in recognition of her long, vigorous and dedicated services."

Other awards went to employees of these firms and organizations:

Achievement awards — Associated Dredging Co., Basalt Rock Co., Colonial Wax Products, Heath Ceramics, Prudential Life Insurance Co., as well as Larkspur, Mill Valley, Reed Union, San Anselmo, San Rafael and Tomales Bay Union school districts and Marin Junior College District.

Awards for exceeding campaign quotas went to the business division, Sausalito and Corte Madera; professional division, engineers; public employees division; and residential divisions in east San Rafael, Larkspur, Marin City, southern Marin, Sleepy Hollow, Corte Madera, Kentfield, Loma Verde and Marin Golf and Country Club.

For Garbage Dump

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors yesterday authorized County Manager E. R. Stallings to purchase 280 acres of bay front land for garbage dumps. The acreage ultimately would be developed into a golf course and park with federal aid.

Tam Sanitary Job Is Let

Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District directors Tuesday night awarded a contract to Sabraw Brothers, San Rafael, to construct a district office on Dell Lane for approximately $9,000.

Completion is due in early spring.

An amended engineer's estimate and report on the Tamalpais Woods Assessment District was accepted, changing the average assessment per assessable lot from $890 to $903.

A public hearing will be held at 8 p.m. Jan. 12 at Tamalpais Valley School to hear protests on lot assessments revised upward, according to Gale E. Bishel, director.

Directors passed a resolution thanking Robert D. Smith, who resigned Dec. 8 since he is moving from the district, for "his efforts in office and unflagging zeal."

Homestead Club Sets Christmas Art Sale

The Homestead Valley Improvement Club is holding an arts and crafts Christmas sale in Brown's Hall in Mill Valley Sunday from noon until about 9 p.m.

Weavers, potters and jewelry makers will be displaying their work and a selection of small paintings will be on display. The club will receive a percentage of the proceeds.

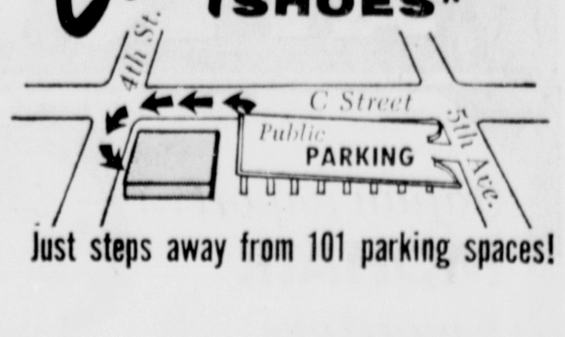

Several of our present-day standards of measurement originally were based on the length of arms, legs and feet of the human body.

Attack From Washington On Redwood Bank Unfair

If there was any intentional wrongdoing by any official of the Redwood National Bank in San Rafael, then they will certainly have to take the consequences.

But the tirade made in Washington by the federal currency comptroller, before a full inquiry has been completed and before the so-called "accused" in San Rafael have had their "day in court," smacks of Washington politics.

Federal Comptroller James J. Saxon wound up his outburst with a statement that "no amount of capital will substitute for integrity," a statement which seems to presume that integrity has been found wanting.

We feel that such a flat accusation should come only after a full investigation, and after the "defendants" have had a chance to rebut the charges.

The worst part of it is that the activities of Bobby Baker and lobbyist Wayne Bromley have not yet been fully aired. The principals in the Washington scandal continue to remain mum before Senate investigators, taking refuge behind the Fifth Amendment.

And yet, before the principals in the scandals have been fully probed in Washington, the comptroller of currency saw fit to castigate all those who had dealings with the Washington lobbyists, no matter how far removed.

At this juncture, it sounds like a typical Washington official, under pressure of Senate investigators, looking around for some faroff target on which to vent his "righteous indignation."

The whole fiasco sounds like Washington bureaucracy, unable to clean its own house, lashing out in all directions, hoping that by this display of indignation, the public wrath against scandals in Washington will be assuaged.

If those who merely contacted lobbyist Bromley are so culpable, we hope that the root of the trouble in Washington itself will be blown sky high instead of being hushed behind closed doors and buried in interminable committee hearings.

Regardless of how much power the comptroller has at his command, we still believe he is obligated to give his "victims" their "day in court" before they are blasted to extinction.

Some Snaky Foolishness

Snakes have always excited man's imagination. Since the serpent told Eve to try that fruit, most people have been a bit leary of snakes.

Some folk believe that snakes paralyze their intended victims with a hypnotic stare. Nothing to it say the experts, unless being scared to death is being paralyzed by hypnosis.

Others believe that the rattler is invariably chivalrous; that it never strikes without warning. Actually, zoologists are not even convinced that its purpose is for warning at all. Darwin thought it was probably for sexual attraction.

Most people don't like snakes and believe them to be slimy, while, in fact, most are dry and scaly. The majority of snakes are harmless to man and benefit him greatly by destroying rats and mice.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

California Conference On Good Design Has Much To Commend It

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown's conference on good design, held in Sacramento last week, appears to have much to commend it. At least, the idea of spreading the gospel of good design may take root and produce some results in a hundred years or more.

Although the conference was somewhat vague on specifics in good design, the general idea that there should be good design throughout the state, in architecture, freeways, landscaping, furniture, printing, etc., seemed to get across.

THE GOVERNOR and several of the speakers at the conference mentioned the hodgepodge created by lack of planning, by clashing neon signs and billboards.

It might follow that the conference is being used as a method of attacking billboards throughout the state, especially those which are out of place and offensive to some eyes.

The governor long has been opposed to out-of-place billboards, and said at the conference he hopes municipalities will regulate them. So far, he has been unable to get a satisfactory bill through the Legislature to establish state-wide control over this advertising medium.

BY AND LARGE, billboard concerns have attempted to comply with good design both in locating the advertising and in presenting the message to the public.

But there are some government agencies and some legislators that think the billboards should go.

What they fail to recognize is the fact that the people who use the billboards usually are the people who pay the taxes to support the government. These people have goods and services to sell, and in the normal course of business are faced with the necessity of advising the people who buy of these goods and services. Billboards are one effective medium.

BUT GOVERNMENT, which has no goods and services to sell, wants to hamper the private entrepreneur in carrying the message to the public. Government, which never meets a payroll except with the taxpayer's money, and never pays a tax out of its revenue, takes upon itself the obligation of guiding the hand that feeds it.

All of which brings us back to the question of whether the promotion of good design by the government is going to be used to foster a series of mandatory laws controlling outdoor advertising, or whether it will be used as a matter of education and consciousness of the fundamentals of dignified presentation of the products which contribute to the economic welfare of the state.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

A long-awaited reading from the Tamalpais High School library book, "A Field of Broken Stones," was given in separate "stag" and women-only sessions by Mrs. Paul Hammer of San Anselmo and Dr. James D. Diederich of Mill Valley, for the Citizens Research Committee checking on claims of obscenity.

20 YEARS AGO

Jacob Albert, who recently gave the Boy Scout Hall to the public, has donated use of land for a Black Point Community Hall.

Christmas treats and Christmas tree ornaments were needed by the San Rafael USO for distribution by the mobile unit to isolated posts.

THE WRONG PEOPLE FOR THE RIGHT REASON

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

The Students Not Responsible

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Cal's rebel leader Mario Savio, at the premature "victory" celebration, said that now that the rebels have won their point they will be "responsible." Indeed. And why should they? Being irresponsible has apparently gained them exactly what they demanded. Responsibility comes only with restraint and hard work. I doubt that this group has learned those virtues.

Bouquet For Two Letters

Editor, Independent-Journal:

A bouquet to you for printing the two letters (Dec. 11) supporting the free speech fiasco at U. C. They clearly show the undercurrent of this movement; and the type of thinking behind it.

Emotional criticism of Henry C. MacArthur in the name of free sceech is idiotic. His voice ranks with any from our State capitol as to clarity and focus on vital issues.

Further, deriding Governor Brown for his action is immature. He set aside the political ramifications in this all too catering field and earned the respect of any man who knows men.

Finally, citing the free speech acceptance at Stanford as a cause shows the U. C. contingent for what they are. Such pre-school tantrums at that private university would result in their being kicked off campus onto the El Camino Real to hitch hike you know where.

As to the issue, free speech is the right of every American. To maintain our freedom, it should never be discouraged. But the time, place, reason, and manner in which it is used must be dedicated to the Constitution and society that guarantees it. . . .

U. C. is not a place for promoting egocentric interests or supporting political causes. . . .

UNICEF? No, Thank You!

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It's always good policy before making a decision to find out the facts.

At 10 a.m. on Friday, Dec. 11, I called the United Nations Assn. Information Office in San Francisco and talked to a Miss Jensen. In answer to my questions she informed me that UNICEF was doing a wonderful service for the poor children in Communist Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia by distributing food, clothing, etc.

With regard to the actual distribution she quoted from the information manual. In essence it stated that the monies were turned over to the governments of the recipients and they were directly charged with the distribution and upon receipt the Communist governments guaranteed delivery. It didn't state delivery to the children . . . but then you can always trust the Communists!

Library Session Is Mystifying

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I stand completely amazed at the unmistakable ingenuity of San Anselmo's Public Librarian, Mrs. Stewart, and the Library Board in general.

On Saturday, Dec. 5, 1964, I called at the San Anselmo Library to establish the time its board was to meet, since I had been invited by the board's chairman, Miss Valerie M. Ansel, to meet with the board in order to obtain a more well-rounded picture of the library's operation, as I had expressed my displeasure at the regulation for membership imposed on property owning residents. A librarian informed me that the meeting would most likely take place on Monday, Dec. 7, 1964, but I should telephone and confirm the hour and date with Mrs. Stewart. On Monday I called the library and was informed "you may come at 8:15 p.m., after our regular meeting."

At 8:20 p.m. I arrived equipped with my tape recorder. I was then informed that it was unfortunate but I was late and "the next meeting would be held in January . . . do come"!!!

Mr. Editor, my intentions are most honorable and I am a tax payer; what would you suggest besides coming five minutes earlier to the meeting in January?

'Hypocrisy' Is Noted

Editor, Independent-Journal:

This year's award for "liberal" hypocrisy should be bestowed upon Mr. David C. MacMichael. He accuses the I-J of intemperance and degrades Mr. MacArthur as a "frothing, semi-literate."

It is apparent that Mr. "Ph D" MacMichael has a rather high opinion of himself as a literary critic and political sage.

Come down off your pedestal Mr. MacMichael; for you have shown yourself intemperate and now you can join the rest of us mortals in our imperfect society.

BENNETT CERF

TO HEAR HAWAII'S Sen. Hiram Fong tell it, his ancestors overlooked an opportunity to discover the Hawaiian Islands before the Englishman, Captain Cook. A Chinese ship sighted the Islands, but the skipper viewed grass-skirted native lasses gyrating through his telescope and told his crew, "There's no use stopping here. The laundry business would be negligible."

A SOMEWHAT different cook book is Gilbert and Langer's "Moose Mousse," which gives the recipes for such tasty novelties as seared roebuck, gnu's knees, chicken-flavored brownies—and phoenix souffle. For the latter you have only to pluck a phoenix and roast over a charcoal fire until nothing remains but the ashes. The phoenix souffle then rises again.

Johnson Must Be On Guard Against Government Scandal

WASHINGTON — There are special reasons why President Lyndon B. Johnson will need to take extraordinary measures to keep his administration free from the taint—even the suspicion—of scandal.

It did not take the tragedy of a Walter Jenkins or the messiness of the Billie Sol Estes case or the Bobby Baker cover-up to persuade Johnson that he wants to keep his term of office unsullied.

No president wants it otherwise.

OBVIOUSLY President Johnson does not want corruption to stain his rule. His fierce pride in himself and in his election should guarantee that; his political sophistication should keep him alert to the dangers of how corruption can creep and climb in government until it is too late to prevent it.

But the candid question which must be asked and which, I suspect, Johnson is wisely asking himself is: What extra protection and precautions can the president take to avert corruption within the government?

It isn't easy to keep scandal from the door of a government which has 2,320,000 employees. President Warren G. Harding did not will the Teapot Dome scandals, but he was sold out by false friends in his administration. President Harry Truman was horrified at the Justice Department income tax fixes, which reached as high as an assistant attorney-general, but this corruption was poisoning the bureaucracy before Truman ever knew what was up.

THERE ARE three reasons why President Johnson has to watch his administration like a hawk.

One reason is that, despite the fact that the ethical standards of politics are as high as those of other professions, politicians are especially suspect in the public mind. This suspicion is bound to make Johnson's problem more acute because of his own bigger-than-life image as a maneuvering politician — a valuable asset but a public relations liability.

Further, the president has inherited some scandals and they were so exploited in the campaign that he will have to take added care to keep the administration guarded against corruption and, like Caesar's wife, against suspicion itself.

THE THIRD circumstance which confronts Johnson is the effect of the Bobby Baker cover-up, which makes it doubly crucial that the administration avert anything which even looks like scandal.

The Democrats will acutely regret that they ever snuffed out—on the eve of the campaign—the rules committee inquiry into Baker's grievous misuse of his position as secretary of the Senate majority.

The Democrats must have thought they were making things cozy for the oncoming election. They assured the country that the investigation was completed and satisfactory.

IT PROVED to be embarrassingly incomplete and unsatisfactory. It has had to be reopened and now everything new that comes out — about contract kickbacks and lobbyists' pay-offs for legislative favors — raises the questions: Why didn't this come out before? How can the Bobby Baker investigation be trusted in December when it couldn't be trusted in August?

The aroma from this feeble non-investigation will hurt the Democrats and the president for a long time. Inevitably it adds layers of suspicion in the public mind and makes it incumbent upon Johnson to demonstrate that such suspicions are unjustified. I have no doubt that he has the will and the force to do so.

Security Measure Undertaken By U.S.

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The Secret Service is gathering information on all individuals, organizations and groups posing a potential physical threat or "embarrassment" to President Lyndon B. Johnson, Vice President-elect Hubert Humphrey or members of the Cabinet.

Approved by the White House, this far-reaching preventive security measure is being undertaken by the Secret Service with the full assistance of all government agencies and departments.

ALSO STATE and local police authorities are being requested to cooperate in this sweeping information dragnet —the most intensive ever conducted by a government agency during peacetime.

According to government sources, the Secret Service decided on this advance protection program after being severely criticized by the Warren Commission in its report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, recommended closer liaison between the Secret Service and other government agencies, including the exchange of information on persons regarded as potential threats to the president.

AS HIGHLIGHTED in the commission's investigation, none of the government security agencies with information on Lee Harvey Oswald notified the Secret Service that the Marine Corps defector had returned from Russia and was living in Dallas. The State Department, CIA and FBI had this data in their files.

Although the Warren Commission made no specific recommendation on the information to be collected, the Secret Service has included individuals and organizations that might cause "embarrassment" to the president in order to protect him from dangerous pickets and demonstrators.

With more massive demonstrations being held in the capital, authorities charged with the president's security decided that full details about the organizers and participants are necessary to ensure his protection.

THE SWEEPING nature of the Secret Service's directive, expected to stir up a major controversy in the new Congress, is already being studied by the Senate and House appropriations committees to determine if it goes too far.

The legislators are concerned that a number of the government agencies are using the directive to gather information on individuals and organizations that are of little threat to the president although not happy with some of his programs.

While reviewing the new information - gathering program, the legislators plan to question officials on how many of the 75 additional agents and technical personnel being requested by the Secret Service will be involved in this task.

In seeking an additional $650,000 for the accelerated program to strengthen presidential protection, a Secret Service memorandum states that "the basic emphasis will be on more effective advance and preventive work by the service in connection with presidential travel, as well as the use of more sophisticated equipment."

Everywhere In Marin Topic Seems To Be Trouble At Cal

"I know one thing. None of my kids are ever going to go to the University of California."

That was the reaction of a Marin member of the California Highway Patrol after his return from Berkeley. Twenty local CHP officers were called into service to empty the campus administration building.

"ALL ANYBODY looks at are the guys with beards and long hair. Nobody cares about the issues," complained a leader of the free speech movement who lives in Marin County. He was clean-shaven and wore a tie.

"I never saw so many people like that. Why don't they take baths?" asked the highway patrolman. Maybe they have something more important on their minds.

"I was told this is one of the top schools in the country. These are supposed to be the brightest kids. How do they know they are so intelligent?" Obviously they don't know by measuring the length of their hair.

"WE'VE HAD A very bad press. All the pictures are of beatniks," complains the student. Photographers can take pictures of young men in business suits on Montgomery Street. It's the unusual that sells newspapers. Why is everyone acting so surprised about press coverage?

Strike up a conversation in a coffee shop or a bar in Marin and the odds are the conversation will soon turn to the demonstrations on the Berkeley campus.

One thing is certain. The students, the administration and the general public are all getting an education from the FSM action. That, in itself, is probably worthwhile. Too bad no academic credits can be offered.

STUDENTS ARE learning about political power and how it can be used and manipulated. Many will soon have seminar courses in court procedure, and will learn about it in a way which they will remember better than if they had learned in a classroom.

Adults are learning about the younger generation, no longer the silent generation but the frightening generation.

Both sides have scored points. Any student who felt that the general public would ignore those students—a minority—who are unkempt or wear beards is just terribly naive.

AND THE ISSUE is not beards. It was a question of whether students, who have a right to free speech, were having that right abrogated by the university rules. The later issue, now perhaps as important, is what are sufficient tactics for securing this right and how strongly a government should act to enforce a law.

But it would be nice if the cry babies kept quiet. Students cry about police brutality and administrative intransigence and the press. Adults cry about demonstrations and lack of respect for elders and institutions. A lot of people wanted to play rough. They should expect a few bruises.

10-Hour Work Week Looks Pretty Good To Columnist

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

Industrial scientists hopefully herald a future in which automation will relieve mankind of most of its present drudgery and a fellow may earn a living by working 10 hours a week or less.

"What will man do with all this leisure?" moralists demand. "It will ruin him."

THESE DIRE forecasts annoy me, and I think most of these high-domed Cassandras are guilty of intellectual snobbery and an indefensible distrust of their fellow men.

I have no objection if a moralist wants to work 90 breast-beating hours a week. It is none of my business. Equally, it is none of his business if I happen to like the prospect of science cutting my work week to 10 hours or less.

The average man a century ago worked at least 60 hours a week, but I doubt that this did much to improve his character or increase his joy in living.

THE SHORTENING of the work week has been accompanied by an enrichment of American culture, a more healthful environment, and a lengthening of the life span.

It is hard to see how the trend toward an even shorter work week can be harmful.

Getting into trouble doesn't really take much time. A fellow working a 10-hour day can get into just as much serious trouble as a fellow working a 10-hour week.

AS A MATTER of fact, the fewer hours a fellow works the more hours he has to spend keeping out of trouble. He has a lot more time to devote to this problem.

A 10-hour work week also would take much of the urgency out of our present fast-paced living which tends to make us neurotic.

Instead of stopping off on the way home for a short quick one, we'd be able to stop off for a tall slow one.

WE'D BE ABLE to study more history by staying up to watch more late, late, late movies on television.

Our tempers would become sweeter as there would be more time to find a good parking place for our cars.

We'd have more time to fight crabgrass in the suburbs.

We'd have more time to write letters to our congressman.

HUSBANDS WOULD become more noble as they found more time to ponder their wives' good advice.

Punctuality would improve. After all, a fellow who goes to the office only two days a week can't be late as often as a fellow who goes there five days a week.

We'd even have more leisure to listen to moralists explain why too much leisure would destroy us.

Yule Party To Close Session Of 'Tiny Tots'

Current session of "Tiny Tots" classes at the San Rafael Recreation Center will end with a Christmas party at 2 p.m. Saturday, according to recreation director Joseph P. Rodota.

About 100 children in the 3 and 4-year-old group will sing, dance and put on a play. The party will be punctuated by the music of guitarist Douglas Karr and an appearance by Santa Claus.

Next "Tiny Tots" session will start with sign-ups from 9 a.m. to noon Dec. 29 at the center, 37 Union Street.

The length of a week has varied from as little as three days to as much as 10 days. The seven day length was an Eastern invention used by Babylonians and Jews.

WINNING BRIDGE

Choose Lesser Risk When Planning Play At Bridge

If you object to taking an occasional risk, you'd better resign from the human race.

You cannot completely avoid risk even if you stay in bed all day. The sensible course is to choose the lesser risks instead of the greater ones.

Opening lead — ♡ 5

Declarer won the first trick in dummy with the ace of hearts and returned a low club. East played low, and South won with the king.

NEXT CLUB

South thought of leading the next club from his hand, but couldn't guess whether to lead the queen or the low club. The low club would work in the actual hand, but the queen would work if East had started with A-x-x and West with J-x.

If East still had both the ace and jack, South would have to lead clubs a second time from dummy.

The problem was how to get to dummy to lead the second club. It looked "safe" to lead a spade to dummy's king, but this play cost South his contract.

FORCE OUT

East took the next club trick and fired back the king of diamonds to force out dummy's ace.

This removed the entry to the long clubs, and South couldn't make nine tricks without bringing in the clubs.

After winning the first club with the king, South must lead a diamond to dummy's ace. East can take the next club and cash three diamonds, but then the defenders are through.

IN POSITION

Even if the defenders are in position to lead a spade from the West hand after taking their diamonds (this would be possible if West had length in diamonds), South can win the spade in his own hand and clear the queen of clubs out of the way before getting to dummy with the king of spades. Dummy's last two clubs cannot be shut out.

It looks dangerous to open up the diamonds, but it is unlikely that either opponent has five of the six missing diamonds and also the ace of clubs.

The diamond play is therefore less risky than the "safe" spade play.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Dec. 17, the 352nd day of 1964 with 14 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning stars are Venus and Mars. The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

Poet John Greenleaf Whittier was born on this day in 1807.

On this day in history:

In 1903, Orville and Wilbur Wright made the first successful airplane flight at Kitty Hawk, N.C.

In 1925, Gen. William Mitchell was found guilty by a court martial and sentenced to suspension from the Army for five years. Twenty years later the Senate voted to confer on Mitchell posthumously the Congressional Medal of Honor.

In 1939, the Nazi vessel Graf Spee was scuttled off the coast of Uruguay.

In 1941, Adm. Chester Nimitz replaced Adm. Husband Kimmel as commander of the United States Pacific Fleet.

A thought for the day — Roman statesman Cicero said: "The short period of life is long enough for living well and honorably."

TELEVISION REVIEW

Negroes Campaign Again For Roles

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—As expected, now that the national elections are over, a strong campaign is being mounted again for a greater use of Negroes in major television roles. Protests for the cause have been heard in recent weeks in the two key production cities of New York and Hollywood.

At NBC-TV, well before these predictable protests, it was announced that a Negro comedian-actor, Bill Cosby, will costar next season with Robert Culp in a one-hour tongue-in-cheek series, "I Spy," about a couple of intelligence agents who roam the world pretending to be tennis pros. Last season, CBS-TV's "East Side/West Side" had a Negro secretary in a running role; and, in fact, a coincidental upsurge of both dramatic programs and Negro pressure resulted in an increase of parts for Negroes—in commercials too. This season, however, things have been different, with the chief continuing inroads seeming to be in commercials and minor roles.

Bluntly speaking, the impasse between the network entertainment departments and many Negro spokesmen is likely to continue on a very strained basis. Despite such a series as "I Spy," these spokesmen are not happy about either the use or depiction of Negroes on television in general.

And the networks, meanwhile, concerned overwhelmingly with profits rather than issues, are not likely to take too many drastic steps that they feel would endanger their national advertisers or audience. They frankly don't seem to have decided as yet whether they would be hurt more by a white boycott or Negro boycott in the sponsor area—or even if there would likely be a boycott of harmful proportions.

A short while ago, a report issued by a committee of the New York Society for Ethical Culture gained considerable news space in both main production centers with its assertion that the Negro image was not getting proper treatment in entertainment shows, daytime serials or children's programs. Also a short while ago, Ivan Dixon, an outspoken spokesman for a group here known as the Negro Actors For Action, sharply disputed a reported statement by an NAACP executive that Negroes had made "spectacular employment gains in Hollywood.

Furthermore, two nights ago, at a theater on Hollywood Boulevard, right in the heart of filmtown, Dixon, author James Baldwin and actor-director Frank Silvera were featured in a discussion called "The American Image in Television," for which invitations were sent out by the Writers Guild of America—and this night of talk reflected the dissatisfaction even further. A considerable audience of both whites and Negroes, a number of them recognizable industry people, turned out for this session, which was held at the Music Box Theater, where Baldwin's play "The Amen Corner" is being presented. There is a long struggle ahead.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Dame Margot Fonteyn and Rudolf Nureyev perform in CBS-TV's one-hour color special with England's Royal Ballet Dec. 27 . . . British television, whose success with weekly multi-part nighttime soap opera helped to inspire ABC-TV's "Peyton Place," has now bought that serial.

Subscription Television Inc., the California firm that took it on the chin when state voters outlawed Pay-TV in the Nov. 3 elections, auctions off its office equipment and furnishings within the week . . . With the networks revving up James Bond-type international adventure series, who better to essay such a role with civility and aplomb than Richard Boone?—it's just modern dress "Have Gun, Will Travel," spoof and all.

PRESS RELEASE: "National Auto Renting Co. is renting cars in New York with luxury appointments, including TV, stereo, hi-fi, FM radios, a bar, typewriters and other accoutrements. The most requested extra, says the company, is TV, but it can only be used in the back of the car, since the law does not permit TV in the front, where it may distract the driver."

Temporary Telephone Cable Set

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. will install a temporary cable across the south fork of Gallinas Creek at Santa Venetia, according to notice issued by the U.S. Army Engineer District in San Francisco.

The cable is to remain in place for about nine months but it will be in the same approximate location of that of an authorized permanent submarine cable installation.

The permanent cable will be buried at a minimum depth of 14 feet below mean lower low water so as not to interfere with possible future navigation improvements, according to Lt. Col. Robert H. Allan, district engineer. It is to be installed as soon as weather and soil conditions are satisfactory.

Legislators' Forum Is Set

John Q. Public will have a chance to make himself heard in Sacramento and Washington through a hearing from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. tomorrow in Marin Civic Center.

Marin's three legislators will hold a forum for citizens, civic groups and local officials to air their ideas on what legislation should be passed in the coming year by the state and federal governments.

Present at the session in the supervisors' chambers will be Congressman Don H. Clausen (R-Crescent City), State Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) and Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael).

Railroad Passenger Proves Pretty Tough

TRONDHEIM, Norway (AP)—A 79-year-old farmer fell off the Trondheim-Oslo express Wednesday while it was going more than 55 miles an hour but he wasn't hurt.
